Oil, housing slow conferees

Tax cut nears deadline

By CARL C. CRAFT

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — With Congress ready to recess for Easter, Senate and House negotiators drafting a compromise tax-cut bill are at odds over a tax credit for home buyers and the oil depletion allowance.

Members of the Senate-House conference committee were to try again today in a closed-door meeting to hammer out a compromise that could win quick approval of both chambers and be sent to President Ford.

The conferees agreed Tuesday that the final bill will include a general 10 per cent rebate of last year's taxes up to a $200 maximum. There would be a minimum $100 rebate, except that anybody who paid under $100 last year would just get all of it back.

Under pressure from Ford to reduce the tax cut size, the conferees also began to trim the $34.4 billion tax bill voted by the Senate.

Ford said the final figure must be held down, lest Congress make the bill

"so bad it's easy to veto." If Ford vetoes the bill, he might call Congress into special session next week, forcing the lawmakers to give up their own recess. The White House indicated Ford might skip his planned Easter vacation in California to stay in Washington until Congress finishes work on a tax cut.

Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., chairman of the conference committee, said the panel would "hopefully finish in time so that Congress can act" on the bill later in the day and then begin a 10-day Easter recess.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., another conferee, was skeptical. "We're stuck on oil and housing," he said.

The Senate conferees reportedly are holding out for a tax break for house buyers that allows a buyer to subtract 5 per cent of the cost of the house, up to a maximum of $2,000, from his 1975 tax bill.

The oil depletion allowance, which now allows oil and gas producers to avoid taxation on 22 per cent of their income, also is a point of disagreement. House conferees want it eventually ended for all oil and gas producers; the Senate wants it retained for small producers.

In areas of agreement, the conferees:

—Accepted a $1.5 billion program of special tax cuts for poor working families.

—Settled on a $3.35-billion tax cut for businesses as an incentive to buy machinery and equipment and thus promote expansion and creation of more jobs. They also agreed on a $1.4 billion tax cut aimed chiefly at small businesses.

—Chopped $6.6 billion from the $34.3 billion Senate's package of tax cuts and increased spending.

Also accepted by the conferees was a $200 million Senate provision authorizing an extra 13 weeks of federal unemployment compensation benefits for jobless persons whose one year of benefits has been exhausted.

The conferees cut a $1.7-billion Senate provision on child care to $90 million of benefits for working families who must hire babysitters. They dropped a special $700-million feature designed to encourage home insulation for energy saving.

President Ford proposed a $16.2-billion tax cut, $12.2 billion for individuals and the other $4 billion for business. The House passed a tax cut of $16.2 billion for individuals and $3.6 billion for businesses, making the total $19.8 billion.

The Senate voted to cut individuals' taxes $23.3 billion and business taxes $7.4 billion, for a total $30.7 billion cut.

No community-wide event

Good Friday services set at two churches

The Fayette County Ministerial Association voted earlier this month not to have a community-wide Good Friday service as in the past but to allow the individual churches to decide their own services.

According to the Rev. Mark Dove, president of the Fayette County Ministerial Association, only two churches in the area have scheduled Good Friday celebrations.

The Grace United Methodist Church will hold a Good Friday service from 12 noon until 1 p.m. Friday in the church at 301 E. Market St. and the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, 1003 N. North St., will present a Tenebrae Service at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Prior to the Good Friday activities at the Grace United Methodist Church, a re-enactment of the Passover will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in conjunction with the Holy Communion.

The public is invited and Rev. Dove will serve as celebrant during the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

Auto tax exemption showdown arrives

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A showdown is promised in Ohio's legislature today on a battered bill temporarily suspending the four per cent sales tax on new motor vehicles until June 30.

The bill, by Sen. Robert D. Freeman, D-29 Canton, and others, lost in the House by two votes last Thursday after complaints it would deprive the state of about $3 million in needed revenues.

Tuesday, the House voted 68-24 to reconsider the original vote, and Democratic leaders said it will come up again today as the first order of business at an afternoon session.

Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, said the reconsideration was not held Tuesday because nine members were absent. The immediately effective emergency measure takes a two-thirds majority of the lower chamber — or 66 votes. It failed of passage initially by a vote of 64-24 — four votes fewer than the 68 the measure received on the reconsideration motion.

In floor action Tuesday, the House approved, 83-9, a measure that earmarks 75 per cent of the state's severance tax revenue for reclamation of abandoned strip mine land. That measure went to the Senate along with another House bill authorizing $2 Bureau of Motor Vehicle identification cards for Ohio's non-drivers.

The vote on the identification card bill was 72-19, with opponents saying they feared further governmental invasions of privacy as a result of records it keeps on citizens.

The Senate approved and sent the House by a vote of 31-1 an emergency bill extending until Jan. 1, 1976, the deadline for more than 500 nursing homes to install automatic sprinkler systems. They were supposed to have had them this past Jan. 1 under a 1974 enactment.

Saudi leaders support Khaled

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Saudi Arabia's leaders pledged allegiance today to weeping King Khaled as the body of his assassinated older brother, King Faisal, was prepared for burial in an unmarked grave.

A live broadcast from Riyadh, the Saudi capital, described the ceremony at which the new 62-year-old king and his 53-year-old brother, Crown Prince Fahd, received pledges of allegiance from princes of the royal family, military commanders, Moslem religious leaders, Bedouin tribal chiefs and commoners.

Khaled, and Fahd at his side, were dressed in traditional flowing white robes with brown cloaks trimmed with gold. For 90 minutes, the new king's subjects approached the throne one by one, placed their hands on the Koran, and made their pledges.

The hundreds of Saudis in the royal court and thousands of citizens massed outside the government palace chanted "God is great" and "May Allah be with you."

A sobbing radio announcer reported that King Khaled burst into tears, starting a chain reaction among the audience.

There was no official word on the fate of Faisal's assassin, who the Saudi radio said earlier was a mentally deranged nephew of the king. Some Beirut newspapers said Faisal's bodyguards killed him. Others said he was arrested and would be beheaded after the funeral.

One Beirut newspaper reported that Faisal pardoned him as he lay dying, saying: "Have mercy on him. I feel no hate for him."

King Khaled in the first public statement of his reign pledged to follow Faisal's policies.

"I beseech Allah to have mercy on our great departed leader and seek the Almighty's support to help me carry on his mission," said the statement, which was read over the government radio by Information Minister Ibrahim el Angary.

Diplomats in Beirut interpreted this as a pledge to continue seeking friendship with the United States and other Western powers while contributing liberally from Saudi Arabia's vast oil revenues to pressure on Israel to withdraw from East Jerusalem and all other Arab territories occupied in the 1967 war.

Prayers were to be said over Faisal's body for most of the day, and at sunset the remains were to be buried in an unmarked grave, in accordance with the tenets of the Wahhabi Moslem sect.

There was speculation that he would be buried beside his father, King Ibn

Saud, who is buried somewhere on the outskirts of Riyadh.

Foreign leaders gathered in Riyadh to pay their respects to the dead king and his successor. President Ford sent Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller to express the U.S. government's condolences.

The official Saudi radio said the assassin, Prince Faisal Ibn Musaed, fired several shots into his uncle's body during a general audience Tuesday on the occasion of the birthday of the Prophet Mohammed.

Prince Faisal is reported to be 27, a graduate in political science from the University of Colorado and a former student at San Francisco State College and the University of California at Berkeley.

The Saudi radio said the young prince was "mentally deranged." The Arizona Republic, published in Phoenix, Ariz., said a member of the Saudi royal family told it by telephone that Prince Faisal was a religious fanatic who killed his uncle because the police killed the prince's brother during a religious demonstration in 1966.

Al Ahram said Prince Faisal's father, named Musaed, and a half-brother of King Faisal, was once imprisoned by the king for killing an unidentified person.

BOUND FOR U.S. 35 — To motorists who are unfamiliar with Washington C. H., finding their way to U.S. 35 has posed considerable problem, especially since the bypass project has been completed. In an effort to minimize the confusion, the Ohio Department of Transportation erected more than 20 new road signs Wednesday. Bill Casper, traffic engineer for Division Six of the Ohio Department of Transportation and Glenn Tatman, city inspector, mapped out the placement of the new signs. Tatman said that all traffic for U.S. 35 has been routed out the CCC Highway-W to pick up U.S. 35 at the bypass. He noted that the cost of installation is approximately $1,000, but there will be no charge to the city. The new U.S. 35 directional signs will be installed at 10 locations in Washington C. H., including seven intersections.

Court modernization progresses gradually

By SANDY FOSSON

Work is progressing gradually on the remodeling and expansion of the Washington C.H. Municipal Court facilities, being financed through a federal grant obtained earlier this year by the Washington C.H. City Council.

Some rescheduling of cases have been made in order that renovation activities can be conducted in the morning hours and normal court functions can resume during the afternoons.

Only one worker, employed by the city of Washington C.H. through Comprehensive Employment and Training Act funds, has been executing the major remodeling of the old courtroom and business area.

Included in the project are newly paneled walls, lowered ceilings, carpeted floors and removal of the present judge's platform with the installation of an elevated jury section in the courtroom; remodeling an old city jail cell for library storage; and expanding the business office, completely renovated with paneling, lowered ceilings and carpeting.

THE TOTAL cost for the proposed improvement project is set at $5,420. The grant includes $4,065 provided by the Administration of Justice Division, $1,016 paid through local funds and $339 from the state's share.

City Manager Dan Wolford stated the present courtroom facilities "are most inadequate and would not conform to the new rules of superintendency for municipal courts."

He stated that "only bits and pieces" of remodeling have been conducted in the past in the courtroom and office area since the court was established in 1952.

The facilities consist of three small rooms with inadequate electrical service, improper lighting and no air conditioning.

COURT RENOVATION — Homer Peters, 120 E. Kennedy Ave., a carpenter employed under the city's Comprehensive Employment and Training Act, enjoys a good smoke as he rips out the flooring on the judge's platform in Washington C. H. Municipal Court. Peters is the lone worker conducting the $5,000 major remodeling project of the courtroom and business office.

Indochina aid fading away in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert P. Griffin chided congressional Democrats today for planning a 10-day Easter vacation without voting on additional military aid for Cambodia and South Vietnam.

"By default and through caucus decisions of the majority party it has become painfully obvious to all who watch in the United States and around the world that Congress is turning its back on allies in Indochina who are struggling to defend themselves," Griffin, a Michigan Republican, said in a speech prepared for the Senate.

President Ford asked Congress in January for $300 million in additional military aid for South Vietnam and $222 million for besieged Cambodian government forces.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee earlier this month approved by a 9-8 vote $82.5 million in additional Cambodian aid for the next three months, with an administration-opposed total aid cutoff June 30. The House International Relations Committee has rejected a similar Cambodian aid bill.

Deaths, Funerals

Lewis W. Price

GREENFIELD — Lewis W. Price, 51, of 153 North St., Greenfield, died at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in Greenfield Municipal Hospital.

Born in Greenfield, Mr. Price was a retired employee of the U.S. Shoe Corp. after 32 years of service and a member of the Trinity Christian Union Church.

He is survived by his wife, the former Evelyn Perry, whom he married April 24, 1948; two sons, Gene, of South Salem, and Tracy, at home; five grandchildren; four brothers, Herbert and Dennis, both of Greenfield, Arthur, of Port William, and Willard, of Cincinnati, and three sisters, Mrs. Donald (Corabelle) Walls, of Greenfield, Mrs. Thomas (Ruth) Smith and Mrs. Betty Mootispaw, both of Washington C.H. A brother and two sisters preceded him in death.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Murray Funeral Home, Greenfield, with the Rev. John Moats officiating. Burial will be in Greenfield Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 4 p.m. Friday.

Mrs. Oscar Vandemark

BAINBRIDGE — Services for Mrs. Mary E. Vandemark, 64, wife of Oscar Vandemark, Rt. 1, Bainbridge, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Friday in the Bainbridge Church of Christ in Christian Union with the Rev. Lloyd Miller officiating. Burial will be in Bainbridge Cemetery.

Mrs. Vandemark died at 4:30 a.m. Tuesday in Fayette Memorial Hospital, Washington C.H. She was born to Marshall and Lottie Groves Barlow May 22, 1910, in Ross County.

Surviving is her husband, Oscar; six sons, Robert of Sabina, Donald, Kenneth and Richard, of Tucson, Ariz., and James and Fred of Bainbridge; four daughters, the Misses Ruth and Barbara, Rt. 1, Mrs. Helen Bowling and Mrs. Betty Forsbach, both of Tucson, Ariz.; 20 grandchildren; and a sister, Mrs. Addie Estle, Rt. 2. Two brothers, a sister, and her parents, are deceased.

Friends may call at the Smith Funeral Home, Bainbridge, after noon Thursday.

Peltier to face more questioning

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gordon Peltier, 57, won't know for two weeks or more if he can keep his job as commerce director in the administration of Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The embattled Columbus attorney, who held the same position for 7½ years when Rhodes was governor before, underwent more grueling questioning Tuesday night by the Senate Elections, Insurance and Financial Institutions Committee.

It was a repeat of a similar grilling he got last week from the Democrat-controlled committee, and Chairman Tony P. Hall, D-6 Dayton, said Senate action on his confirmation will be delayed until after a 12-day legislative recess that starts Thursday.

Peltier, Rhodes' campaign finance manager in last fall's heated gubernatorial campaign, is by far the most controversial appointee to come before the Senate so far. Questions Tuesday night dealt with activities during his previous tenure, but also hit on several recent activities as well.

Sen. David L. Headley, D-28 Barberton, had Peltier concede through questioning that several thousand consumer protection booklets printed during the administration of former Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan have been kept from further distribution.

The director said he didn't know the number involved, but took no exception to Headley's estimates of 3,000 "Consumer Protection Kits," 270,000 home improvement brochures and about 30,000 booklets warning of the perils of mobile home investments. Those requesting the publications were told they were "out of print," Headley said.

Silver bridge case testimony heard

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Charles F. Scheffey, director of research for the Federal Highway Administration, testified Tuesday that the phenomenon which is blamed for the collapse of the Silver Bridge was generally observed only in other types of suspension bridges.

Scheffey testified in a Court of Claims hearing which will determine if West Virginia will be held liable for the 56 death, injury and property damage claims totaling almost $6.4 million which have been filed as a result of the disaster.

Senate challenges farm bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The emergency farm aid bill faces a Senate challenge from those who question whether the government should boost support for tobacco growers while spending other money to discourage smoking.

The measure, scheduled for debate today with a vote expected in the late afternoon, would establish parity for tobacco at 70 per cent, up from the current rate of about 60 per cent.

Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, says he will attempt to lower the parity level because he finds government support for the tobacco industry inconsistent with other government programs aimed at discouraging smoking.

An aide to Moss said Tuesday, "The government spends $1 million a year to educate the public on the hazards of smoking and then spends $50 million a year to help grow it."

U.S. aids Da Nang evacuation

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — The United States today began a massive refugee airlift from threatened Da Nang and also evacuated some American officials from the consulate shortly after Viet Cong rockets smashed into the air base.

U.S. officials said a World Airways Boeing 727 made two runs between Da Nang and Saigon to start the evacuation of 350,000 to 500,000 refugees from the northern city. At last count there were more than 300 Americans in Da Nang, 380 miles northeast of Saigon.

It was expected that a second plane, a Flying Tiger Boeing 747 jumbo jet, would be put into service Thursday. Officials said it can carry between 1,200 and 1,600 persons. The bulk of refugees will be flown to Cam Ranh Bay, 250 miles south of Da Nang.

The Saigon command said the Viet Cong blasted the area around the large Da Nang air base with 14 122mm rockets in a pre-dawn attack that killed six civilians and wounded 36. It was the first rocket attack in the area since South Vietnamese provinces began falling to the Communists three weeks ago.

In other major Indochina developments:

—President Nguyen Van Thieu, his political and military position weakened by the loss of more than half of South Vietnam's territory to the Communists, pledged in a nationwide radio address to mount a counter-offensive. He vowed to stay in office.

—Former Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky, one of Thieu's bitterest rivals and harshest critics, emerged from political retirement to lead a meeting of military officers and politicians opposed to Thieu. Their plan, sources said, was for Thieu to give his power up to a "National Salvation Front" composed of moderate and leftist groups.

—In Cambodia, 300 government soldiers east of Phnom Penh walked away from their defensive positions Tuesday, field reports said. The government battalion completely abandoned its position at Svay Chhrom, on the east bank of the Mekong River, by nightfall, reports said. A number of soldiers crossed the Mekong by swimming or holding on to empty ammunition boxes.

—The White House said Army Chief of Staff Gen. Frederick C. Weyand is flying to Saigon with orders from President Ford to assess the military situation and determine what additional help might be needed. Weyand was the last U.S. commander in Vietnam.

—The U.S. Navy carrier Hancock, with 16 Marine helicopters and 300 men aboard, steamed from Honolulu toward Indochina waters to evacuate Americans from Cambodia or Vietnam — including Da Nang, should the airport there be closed.

Housing market awaiting buyers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The crippled housing market has seen interest rates decline recently. Mortgage lending institutions report more and more money is available for home buyers. But the market's still waiting for the buyers.

While the number of starts on new houses remains about 40 per cent below a year ago and the mood of home buyers remains cautious, officials are encouraged by the developments in the lending markets.

The latest encouragement for home buyers, home builders and the economy in general came Tuesday in the Federal Home Loan Bank Board's report that in February people deposited $3.1 billion more than they withdrew at savings and loan institutions for the second month in a row. A third $3 billion month is expected for March.

As recently as last September deposits were shrinking by $1 billion a month, drying up what is the industry's largest source of loans. The flood of new money now means easier credit for buyers and builders.

But the Federal Home Loan Bank Board report showed that the new money has not prompted a rush of home buyers eager to get loans.

The volume of loans for February was up only $122 million over January and still $201 million below a year ago.

The small number of loans means "the consumer just isn't in the home-buying mood," said Kenneth J. Thygeson, an economist for the U.S. League of Savings and Loan Associations.

"Our people are actively promoting in his radio address, Thieu indicated he had no plans to resign: "I shall be beside you to fight until our complete victory."

"We are now faced with the decisive battle of our history," he said. "Once again, the Communists have openly invaded the territory of South Vietnam."

"We have to fight hard to save our nation, to check the advance of the enemy, to destroy them and finally to proceed to a counter-offensive."

loans. We're willing and able to lend the money," Thygeson said. "But we still have an awful lot of uncertainty in this economy."

Thygeson said he was encouraged by the increase in February of nearly $1 billion in loan offers by savings and loan associations. It was the first significant increase in loan commitments since April.

But he said consumers still appear reluctant to take on sizable new obligations because inflation has reduced the spending power of their take-home pay by 5 per cent over the last year.

And the 10 per-cent-a-year inflation in new home prices over the last two years also has dampened the housing market.

But Thygeson said he expects builders to react with stripped-down, lower-priced houses this year.

Court

The business office is over crowded and there is only one restroom in the court area.

Wolford said he expected the grant to complete remodeling in the entire court area. "We are taking the courtroom and the clerk's office as top priorities for the remodeling funds and then we will use all leftover monies for the library, hallway and perhaps an additional restroom," he said.

All labor for the project is being provided through the city's CETA program. Carpenter Homer Peters is in charge of all ground work, the paneling, ceiling, removal of platform in courtroom and expansion of business office, while city electrician Bob Maust will do all electrical work for the court.

The Municipal Court is multi-jurisdictional in operation by serving both the city and Fayette County. The court handles an average caseload of 576 cases per month and generally collects approximately $16,000 a month in court costs and case fines.

bill, enacted when Democrats controlled the legislature and governor's office for six days in January, still must be ruled upon in the courts.

It transfers the division from the department to the office of Democratic Atty. Gen. William J. Brown. Republicans charged in the pending court case that the measure was enacted illegally.

However, Peltier said he thinks consumer protection at the state level "is fine. It should flourish and grow. It's long overdue."

Auto spokesmen see better sales

DETROIT (AP) — Auto industry spokesmen are optimistic that a seasonal upturn will buoy new car sales this spring despite the fact that mid-March deliveries fell 29 per cent from a year ago.

"There always is a spring upturn in this business, and this year will be no exception," one company analyst said Tuesday after the four major makers reported sales were at a 14-year low for mid-March.

"We bottomed out in November and have been logging slow but steady improvements ever since," the analyst said. "There's nothing in the latest figures to suggest a new industry slump."

Some analysts said the sharp decline in the March 11-20 period provided the first evidence that the close of most cash rebate plans has slowed consumer interest in new cars.

Analysts also attributed the drop to the absence of widespread dealer incentive contests, which boosted deliveries in last year's period well above expected levels.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler launched extensive contests last year to counteract the large-car slump precipitated by the Mideast oil embargo and consumer fears of gasoline shortages. This year, however, only Chevrolet was conducting a sales contest in the mid-March period.

Cash rebates programs ended last month at all companies except Chrysler, which is extending discounts this month on a smaller scale.

Sales for mid-March were 175,674, compared with 246,551 in 1974. The daily selling rate of 19,519 was the lowest since 1961, when the mid-March rate was 16,826. For the year, sales were 1,313,699, down 13 per cent from 1,509,123 a year ago.

An analyst for another company said the latest results were disappointing but do not mean that the industry's most prolonged slump in 30 years has worsened.

He said a post-rebate drop was expected in the first 10 days of the month, but it didn't show until the latest period.

"We knew rebates in February would steal sales away from March," he said. "But the overall trend has remained steady since November. We're still hopeful for a spring upturn, beginning in the last 10 days of March."

Ohio Lottery drawing set

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Thursday night's weekly Buckeye 300 drawing will be an all-Ohio final, the Ohio Lottery Commission says.

Seven contestants were to vie for top prize of $300,000, the commission said Tuesday.

Entrants in the 31st drawing included George Shumaker of Cleveland, Terrence Sautter of Galion, Fern Plunkett of Delaware, Robert Misko and William Singer, both of Akron; Roy Thompson of Brook Park and Richard Mesnick of Richmond Heights.

The commission said a $30,000 second prize also would be offered, and all entrants were guaranteed a minimum of $15,000.

Science office stays dead

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has decided not to re-establish the White House Office of Science and Technology dismantled by President Richard M. Nixon.

An aide said Ford instead is leaning toward the idea of creating a small board of science advisers, possibly consisting of three consultants.

Ford has been requested by several scientific associations and some well-known individual scientists to bring back the office, which was created by President Dwight D. Eisenhower after Russia launched its first satellite.

The office had been directed by the president's official science adviser and had a 50-member staff. The office advised presidents on science-related issues ranging from energy to food.

Nixon dismantled the office in what was officially described as a move to save money and reduce the bureaucracy.

Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller, who was assigned by the President last December to look into the question of reinstating a White House science advisory body, recently came up with a list of possible options.

Stock list has rally

NEW YORK (AP) — Glamors and blue chips paced a broad stock market rally today, spurred by optimism that President Ford and Congress might agree on a tax cut bill before the Easter break.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials surged 12.83 to 760.72. Of the blue chip issues listed in the Dow average, Du Pont climbed 2½ and Eastman Kodak 2, while Exxon, Sears, International Paper, Union Carbide and U.S. Steel were pointed gainers.

Issues rising in price outnumbered losers by a four to one margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

Among rallying glamor issues, Walt Disney climbed 1½ to 44½, Digital Equipment 1½ to 85½, and Hughes Tool 1½ to 76.

Retailers, seen as beneficiaries of a tax cut, moved ahead with J.C. Penney up a point and May Department Stores up 2.

Avco Corp. was the most active Big Board issue, up ¼ to 4¾.

The NYSE's composite stock index rose 0.58 at 44.10 and the American Stock Exchange's market value index was up 0.50 at 79.67.

Butterfield resigns post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alexander P. Butterfield, the former White House aide who revealed Richard M. Nixon's recording system, is leaving his post as federal aviation administrator under pressure.

His resignation, effective March 31, was accepted Tuesday by President Ford "with sincere regret," according to a White House announcement.

It was an open secret, though, that Butterfield had fallen out of favor with the administration. Sources cited a feud with former Transportation Secretary Claude S. Brinegar and criticism over the FAA's air safety performance as the primary reasons. Although he has served as the agency's head since Nixon appointed him two years ago, most Americans remember Butterfield most as the unannounced witness who stunned a television audience by telling the Senate Watergate committee of the White House taping system.

Even at that moment, on July 16, 1973, Butterfield had at least a partial sense of the enormity of the revelation. Ordinarily cool and militarily crisp, his hand shook and his voice faltered as he took the oath before answering questions about his earlier tenure as a Nixon aide responsible for filing presidential papers and the smooth running of the daily White House schedule.

In his letter of resignation to Ford, Butterfield wrote that he was aware of "your desire to put those of your own choosing into Cabinet and key sub-Cabinet posts ...

"Contrary to some press reports I have never in any way argued or maneuvered for my retention," he said.

According to both Transportation Department and FAA sources, however, at least the timing of the resignation was a matter of considerable haggling. Butterfield was said to have insisted that Brinegar's departure precede his own. Brinegar, in turn, reportedly had sought assurances that Butterfield would be leaving before he submitted his own resignation earlier this year.

Need for CIA review

There has been much public discussion, most of it necessarily not based on detailed knowledge, as to whether it was either prudent or worthwhile for the CIA to recover a Soviet submarine lost at sea. Many opinions have been voiced by people in and out of Congress, and varying in expertise.

It is hard to arrive at firm judgment on the strength of what has been made known. Those best qualified to say whether what was recovered was worth an outlay of several hundred million dollars, as well as the risk of scuttling U.S.-Soviet detente, are not being voluble on the subject.

One legitimate criticism of the operation does come to mind. It appears that Congress, as usual, had no part in the process of deciding whether those costs were justifiable. The Central Intelligence Agency carried out a touchy operation, once again, without the effective knowledge, let alone decision-making input, of committees responsible for helping to determine foreign policy.

Even assuming that the operation was a success, this is a disturbing further indication that the CIA operates almost as a law unto itself. Instances where this was clearly not in the best national interest have come to light in recent times. Whatever else it may prove, the submarine recovery project stresses the need for more effective congressional review of CIA activities.

THESE DAYS . . . By John Chamberlain

Doesn't anybody look at the map?

In the Northeastern states, including most of those in New England, the Supreme Court decision denying local state ownership of offshore oil lands and affirming Federal title to leasing rights has caused more than a little anger. Governor Michael Dukakis of Massachusetts predicts a political battle in Congress to reverse the substance of the Court's ruling.

If such a fight should erupt on Capitol Hill, the 12 states which joined with Maine in claiming that the King of England granted control of the waters for 200 miles offshore to the colonies in the 17th century will be up against some strange difficulties imposed by the map. Assuming that the Stuart kings meant to include offshore ownership when they granted charters to Massachusetts, Connecticut and the other colonies, did they have in mind drawing charter lines on the map from west to east for 200 miles out to sea? Or should the lines more or less consist of seaward projections of existing state boundaries, which, in the case of Maine and Rhode Island, run from north to south?

If the west-east projection should hold, Maine would find itself in trouble with Nova Scotia, which juts down to shelter the Gulf of Maine from the open Atlantic. On the other hand, if Maine's seaward rights should be determined by a southerly projection of its western boundary in New England, what would be left for New Hampshire and Massachusetts? The possibility of an internal New England litigation over where the seaward lines should be drawn is obvious.

People notoriously never look at maps. If they did, they would see that state ownership of submerged oil lands would present a mare's nest no matter how the boundaries were to be reckoned. New Hampshire, which has only a sliver of a seacoast, would get the veriest tip of the so-called Georges Bank Basin, where oil conceivably might be found. Massachusetts, on a west-east projection basis, would get practically the whole of the Georges Bank area, effectively cutting off Rhode Island and Connecticut, which would get nothing. What New York might claim to the south of its Long Island coast would come into conflict with the claims of New Jersey. Delaware, like New Hampshire, would get a sliver of sea space, representing a small section of open coast below the estuary of the Delaware River.

If Congress should try to subvert the Supreme Court decision, how would it determine the percentages of oil leasing revenue due to individual Northeastern and mid-Atlantic states? Would Connecticut, whose claim to ocean frontage would consist merely of the northern half of Long Island Sound, where no oil is likely to be found, get nothing from producing wells found in the Atlantic off New York State's Fire Island or Southampton, which are on the south side of Long Island?

If the decision were to be made on rights dating back to the 17th century, wouldn't Connecticut be entitled to something simply because of the eastern end of Long Island was originally settled by the New Haven colony? Connecticut actually enjoyed charter rights antedating the very creation of New York out of the Dutch colony of New Amsterdam.

Moreover, if the 17th century charters should be considered operative by a Congress bent on legislating an overturn of the Supreme Court, what about the fact that Maine was once merely a part of Massachusetts?

This column is continually amused, when it is not appalled, by the refusal of individuals to look at purely physical matters of time and space when making contentious claims. To skip from oil ownership to a totally unrelated matter, there is columnist Jack Anderson's accusation that Reed J. Irvine, a Federal Reserve Board economist who publishes a newsletter called Accuracy in Media, has been using his Federal office time to support his AIM work. Rep. Wright Patman, Texas Democrat, has scheduled a hearing on the Anderson charges.

The whole thing becomes incredibly comic when one considers that Jack Anderson has a whole stable of Federal informants who slip him information derived from what they learn on government time. When Anderson accused Henry Kissinger of "tilting" toward Pakistan, he relied on the work of a listener who certainly didn't get his information in his off-hours.

This column, which appreciates exposure when it doesn't hurt the country's military and foreign policy, enjoys Jack Anderson for the most part. But it also appreciates Reed Irvine's AIM. Lest there be endless suits against Anderson's informants if Patman manages to strike down Reed Irvine on the "government time" issue, our advice to Jack is to call off his dogs. If he persists in pursuing Irvine he will only be hurting his own "freedom of the press."

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

As a newly appointed member of City Council there are a few comments that I wish to make public in regard to the city manager form of government and the one per cent income tax.

I am totally opposed to the mayor form of government so therefore I will do all possible to see that it is defeated at the polls in the forthcoming election should this contest become a reality. This form of government was soundly defeated in 1966 by a margin of almost 3-1. I am positive the sound thinking of citizens of Washington C.H. will again come through with a solid vote for the city manager form of government. Irregardless of what the proponents of the mayor form of government say, this type of government is being rejected by voters year after year in cities across the nation.

In regard to our present city manager, I have had the opportunity to work with Dan Wolford for the past four years serving as a member of the City Planning Commission and now as a member of Council. I am most impressed with his honesty, job knowledge, integrity and enthusiasm. He has done a fine job! Right now he is receiving much undue criticism and to those ardent critics I would like to repeat an old Indian proverb: "Never criticize your fellow man until you have walked a mile in his moccasins" — strangely enough some of his most serious critics have barely begun to crawl!

In regard to the city income tax I had supported and voted for it in the past. I have again voted for the emergency tax levy as a city council member simply because I want to see this city progress. I want to see more industry, more jobs, better recreational facilities, beautifully paved streets and more than ever a city with a smile. I want to see city employees receive a pay raise and have better fringe benefits just as you and I. These things will never come to pass if we get into the habit of rejecting new proposals and renewable tax levies. I was dumbfounded when I learned the cemetery and mental health levies were rejected. Progress? Never! With this type of voter attitude we can only, sad to say, regress.

People that live in this city and have never lived elsewhere do not know what a fine city they have. It is clean, peaceful and filled with an abundance of grand people. It's time we take care of this city, it's ours and our responsibility, don't let it become stagnant as others have, because once it reaches bottom it's a very long process to resurface. It is time for the solid citizens to rally and to work for a better community whether it be in vocal or financial support. I fear that if you do not come forward now, that in just a matter of months Washington C.H. will become a second or third rate city.

Eddie Fisher

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

It looks better to hit niece than aunt?

DEAR ABBY: With reference to the reason an aunt cannot marry her nephew, but an uncle can marry his niece: It originated in Jewish law.

The principle of consanguinity (close blood relationships) forbids sexual relationships between very near kin. An aunt would be in close blood with one's father, therefore a sex relationship would be forbidden according to this logic.

On the other hand, a niece is a step down in the blood lines, and therefore not as close-therfore sex with her would be permitted. This is why a man may not marry his aunt, but he may marry his niece!

Incidentally, while Judaism is a patriarchal society, all blood lines go through the mother. For example, in an intermarriage, the religion of the offspring is determined by the religion of the mother. Therefore, in all blood line relationships, the closeness of the woman determines the decisions.

When I was at the Seminary we used to remember the law through the following joke. It is well-known that often couples quarrel and a man may be moved to strike his wife. If he hit his niece, it is not so bad. But, how would it look if he hit his aunt?

RABBI BERNARD S. RASKUS

DEAR RABBI: Thank you for the explanation. Frankly, I don't think it would "look" any better for a man to hit his niece than it would to his aunt. And with Women's Lib gaining muscle a man who hits any female had better look out for himself.

DEAR ABBY: I have waited for too long to write this letter, but I am finally going to get this off my chest.

I am sick of listening to people complain about plumber's rates. No other professional earns his money working in such damp, unsanitary and uncomfortable conditions. A plumber has no set hours. He works from early morning until late at night, and when he finally does go home, his clothes are black, his boots are soaking wet, and he smells like a sewer.

A plumber is called upon to unstop stopped up toilets, dirty, greasy sinks, and he has to crawl under houses where snakes, spiders and rodents lurk.

Why does everyone think that a plumber is overpaid?

PLUMBER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: After reading your letter, I'm going to give my plumber a bonus next time I see him.

DEAR ABBY: The letter in your column about the woman who prepared so well for her husband's death that she ended up with a lover while her husband continued to live, reminded me of something that happened over 50 years ago. I knew the people involved.

A woman we knew well became very sick. The doctor said she couldn't possibly live, so her husband gave away all her clothes.

Well, she recovered, bought all new clothes and outlived her husband by 20 years.

TRUE STORY

DEAR STORY: There's a common moral in both those stories: "If you don't want it to rain-always carry an umbrella."

DEAR ABBY: What's a nice girl like you doing writing a column when you can belt out a song like you did on Dinah Shore's program?

JUDY S. IN BEVERLY HILLS

DEAR JUDY: Just lucky I guess.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A. Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Wednesday, March 26, the 85th day of 1975. There are 280 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
In 1953, a new vaccine to immunize against polio was announced by Dr. Jonas Salk of the University of Pennsylvania.

On this date—
In 1793, the Holy Roman Empire declared war on France.

In 1804, land acquired in the Louisiana Purchase was divided into the Territory of Orleans and the Territory of Louisiana.

In 1837, the composer, Ludwig Van Beethoven, died.

In 1895, Japan occupied the Pescadores Islands in the Formosa Strait.

In 1913, more than 1,400 persons perished in floods in Ohio, Indiana and Texas.

In 1918, Marshal Ferdinand Foch of France was named commander of Allied armies in World War I.

Ten years ago: The United States rejected a Soviet note accusing the United States of using poisonous gases in South Vietnam.

Five years ago: An American air attaché in the Dominican Republic, Donald Crowley, was released two days after being kidnapped by guerrillas.

One year ago: The Pennsylvania state legislature overrode a veto by Gov. Milton Shapp and restored the death penalty.

Today's birthdays: Playwright Tennessee Williams is 61. Actor Alan Arkin is 41.

Bad times bring more boozers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bad times could turn more Buckeyes into big boozers, adding to the estimated half million alcoholics already in Ohio.

"In times of stress, when people are concerned over unemployment, have feelings of insecurity and have more leisure than they have been geared to, many people turn to chronic abnormal drinking habits to the point of dependency on alcohol," warned Terrence J. Boyle, chief of the Ohio Department of Health's alcoholism program.

Boyle said this has been true historically. It was so in England in the late 18th Century when there was much unemployment due to mechanization during the Industrial Revolution.

Boyle estimated there are 500,000 alcoholics in Ohio today, including 150,000 or more who are employed.

Alcoholism, Boyle claims, is costing Ohio employees and individuals $562 million a year in medical bills, absenteeism and poor job performance.

The health department anti-alcohol programs, operating on a $5.1 million budget this fiscal year, provides most of the funds for and aids in the operation of 42 county alcoholism centers and 12 detoxification centers.

The county centers offer education, information, counseling and referral services.

Boyle said a dozen Ohio hospitals have opened sections for treatment of alcoholics in the past four years. Most have a waiting list, he said.

"More teen-agers are turning to liquor from other intoxicating drugs," Boyle said. "This is a definite trend in Ohio and over the nation."

Elliot Richardson buried in snow

ST. ANTON, Austria (AP) — Elliot L. Richardson, the U.S. ambassador to Britain, says he and his wife were buried briefly in a small avalanche while skiing in this Tyrolean resort but managed to free themselves and suffered no injury.

"I was carried 50 feet down the Gamten slope. I was buried in the snow ... My wife was also briefly in the snow. We were skiing with our children and an English friend, but they were higher up at the time," Richardson said.

Light snow flurries were expected to continue today in Ohio, but little or no accumulation was likely.

A high pressure area moving into the state was expected to bring clear skies tonight.

Temperatures were forecast to drop below the 20 degree mark in northern Ohio and to the low and mid 20s in the southern regions of the state.

With sunshine in most sections forecast for Thursday, temperatures should climb into the 40s over much of the state.

Rain or showers were expected to develop later this week as a western low pressure area approaches Ohio.

Cold air continued to pour southward across the Great Lakes. Meanwhile, a new winter storm system was moving across the Rockies.

Much of northern Ohio was covered with a thin layer of snow this morning and traces of snow lay in parts of southern Ohio.

Along the Ohio River, early morning temperatures were in the lower 30s, while the rest of the state experienced temperatures in the mid and upper 20s.

A chance of showers Friday and Saturday, ending Sunday. Highs in the 40s and low 50s Friday and again Sunday and in the 50s Saturday.

Anita Hill, a sophomore at Otterbein College, Westerville, has been named to the Dean's List for the winter term. Barbara Hill has been accepted at Ohio Northern University, beginning the fall quarter. She will major in the field of Pharmacy. Both girls are former Miami Trace High School students.

Students from the area named to the Dean's List at Ohio Northern University are David Persinger, of Washington C.H., a freshman, majoring in Pharmacy, and Jackie D. Knisley, of Bainbridge, a senior, majoring in Health and Physical Education.

Miss Karen Massie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Massie of Rt. 1, Mount Sterling, has been honored with a Scholarship Award to attend Nationwide Beauty Academy in Columbus. She will start her training June 16, following graduation from Miami Trace High School.

Kidnapping charge filed

CIRCLEVILLE — Circleville police officers filed a kidnapping charge Tuesday against Robert Sering of Crawfordsville, Ind., in the abduction of a local waitress.

Carol Sue Dale, 30, of Circleville, was taken at gunpoint shortly before 6 a.m. Tuesday from the Boyer Restaurant in Circleville, police officers said.

Police said a man later identified as Sering came into the restaurant located in the downtown business district and used a rifle to force Ms. Dale to go with him.

Ms. Dale has been living in the Circleville area since October, police said, and they believe Sering was her former boyfriend.

Sering was driving a 1975 model Oldsmobile with Indiana license plates when he was last seen.

Financial men get spring's feel

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — In spring you want to put the barren winter behind you and dream of the warm breezes breathing life and color into the fields again.

Boys start fire fatal to 7 persons

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Police said it began with two small boys playfully poking a stick into a gas heater in the cellar of a narrow, 3½-story row house on the South Side.

It ended with the building in charred ruin and seven persons burned to death in a flash fire. The victims included a pregnant woman and five children.

"Me and my friends saw smoke and ran to a firebox," said a youth who was at a nearby playground when the fire started Tuesday afternoon. "The firemen came and before I knew it they were carrying bodies out."

Firemen estimated 15 persons from several families had shared the dwelling. The remains of eight dogs also were found in the rubble.

Homicide Detective Michael Gorney said the two boys who were playing in the basement, aged 4 and 8, told him the stick caught fire in the heater and that one of them used it to ignite a shopping bag and push the bag under a bed.

The two boys were rescued by Gloria White, 42, but firemen summoned to the scene said the flames spread so quickly that they were unable to respond to cries for help from the second floor.

Cincy shifts utilities chief

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati city officials Tuesday night announced a top-level administrative shakeup as the city prepared to battle the Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co. over proposed gas and electric rate increases.

Acting City Manager Henry Sandman demoted Public Utilities Director Wallace Power to assistant city solicitor in what Sandman described as a move "to strengthen the Public Utilities Department."

At the same time Sandman and Mayor Theodore M. Berry affirmed the city's policy to resist CG&E appeals to the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio (PUCO).

CG&E Tuesday asked the PUCO to allow a 19.3 per cent increase in natural gas rates. This was preceded by a request to raise electric rates 23 per cent for Cincinnati customers.

Both appeals were made to the state board after CG&E and Cincinnati City Council were unable to agree on CG&E requests.

Power, who was in charge of most city facilities, including Riverfront Stadium, overseeing utilities and municipal parking facilities said only he was "surprised" by Sandman's action.

Financial men sometimes are that way too. While dutifully concerned about all the red ink spilled about, and all the gray statistics littered everywhere, they manage to see the bright colors of the rainbow too.

Says Morgan Guaranty Trust: The economy is still in the throes of a broadly diffused decline. Big dips will be shown in key indicators for the first quarter. Unemployment, it is evident, will climb still more.

That's the wintry look. Now the perspective of spring:

"The first signs of the preconditions necessary for a reinvigorated economy later this year" are already sprouting in the economic soil.

The monthly economic review by Morgan cites key preconditions to recovery that are beginning to be met.

1. The slowing of inflation, which it says has two stems—it is helping to end the erosion of workers' buying power, and it is a psychological dividend as well.
2. The prospect of a tax reduction, which would provide further strengthening of consumer buying potential.
3. The working down, by $2 billion since last October, of the total of installment debt outstanding.
4. The decline in business inventories, which in January had their sharpest drop in 14 years. The bank's economists say "the brunt of the inventory adjustment may very well already have been experienced in terms of its impact on output rates."

5. Increased availability and lower cost of mortgage money, providing a basis for recovery in the housing industry.

The news about housing, says Morgan, "no longer is unrelievedly grim." Interest rates on short-term securities have fallen, leading investors to return funds to the thrift institutions, which in turn can invest in mortgages.

Not everyone shares the bank's view, and it should be remembered that these five little sprouts are courageously intruding into a larger perspective that is really quite stark.

All over town you can find forecasts of storm clouds.

Many people say interest rates will begin rising again late this year because of big corporate and government financing.

The National Association of Home Builders foresees a delay in the housing recovery.

Forecasts of a return of inflation in the double-digit category by 1976 are not uncommon.

But there is hope. Spring is here, and that colors even forecasts.

Committee has jitney supper

Mrs. Ronald Cornwell welcomed 19 members and guest Mrs. Barbara Francesco to the Martha Washington Committee on Indian Affairs March meeting.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America was led by Mrs. Cornwell, chairman and the business meeting followed. Mrs. Mildred Rogers, chairman of the June tour committee, and Mrs. Lowell Miller gave a report of the committee.

A delicious Jitney Supper was enjoyed by Mrs. Helen Van Zant, Mrs. Dorothy Miller, Mrs. Bee Slagle, Mrs. Helen Slavens, Mrs. John Sagar Sr., Mrs. Mildred Rogers, Mrs. Dean Powell, Mrs. Ervin Powell, Mrs. Nellie McFadden, Mrs. Virtus Kruse, Mrs. Leonard Korn, Mrs. Kenneth Johnston, Mrs. Thomas Hancock, Mrs. Robert Haigler, Mrs. Zoe Garinger, Mrs. Charles Ellis, Mrs. Gilbert Crouse and guest Mrs. Barbara Francesco.

Dub's bridge was played by all with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Bee Slagle, Mrs. Lowell Miller, Mrs. Mildred Rogers and Mrs. Zoe Garinger.

The hostess was assisted in the hospitalities by Mrs. Dean Powell and Mrs. John Leland.

Mrs. Kenneth Johnston will be hostess for the April meeting, and Gloria Loyd will be the speaker.

Organ Club holds meeting

Mrs. C.L. Musser was hostess when the Washington Organ Club met in her home recently. Mrs. Earl Hartley, president, conducted the meeting when it was voted to have a representative of the Ohio Arts Council, Stephen Monet, to address the club April 17.

Don Riber, chairman of the Hector Olivera concert held Feb. 7 at Grace United Methodist Church, announced that 700 persons attended. The balcony was filled to 'standing room' only, and the young organist was delighted with the Washington C.H. audience. Many who heard the performance, attended the concert of his the next night at the Ohio Theater. Club members told of both oral and written expressions of appreciation. Mr. Riber announced a new Olivera recording playing the Ohio Theater organ, is available.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hartley and Mrs. Calvin Johnson.

Delta CCL has meeting

Fourteen members of Delta Child Conservation League were welcomed by Mrs. Ferol Lewis, president, in the home of Mrs. Charles Cunningham, and Mrs. Dave Krupla gave devotions.

Committee reports were made and correspondence from the Fayette Progressive School was read. The philanthropic committee will report at the next meeting. The Diabetes Clinic set for April 4 in the Benton Room of the Washington Inn was announced, and all urged to participate.

A slate of candidates for officers will be voted on at the next meeting in the home of Mrs. Tom Mossbarger.

Refreshments, in keeping with St. Patrick's Day, were served by Mrs. Cunningham, Mrs. Jack Frost and Mrs. Wilbur Rapp.

ESA plans 'Bike Ride'

The Alpha Theta chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority met recently in the home of Mrs. Mickey Barker, when following the Ritual, new current orders and needlework kits were distributed and other items were placed. The group held a discussion concerning the 'Million Dollar Bike Ride' for May 4, when the route was described and ways of advertising the event were discussed.

Mrs. John Bernard, reservations chairman of the mother-daughter banquet, announced further plans for that event.

Mrs. John Gall, Mrs. Mike Thompson and Mrs. Fred Zechman were appointed to the Youth Award Committee with Mrs. Thompson the chairman.

Pledges discussed their proposed garage sale, which will be announced soon.

Following the closing ritual, refreshments were served by Mrs. Barker and Mrs. John Morris. Members then stuffed and sorted envelopes for the TB Association and worked on posters for the 'Bike Ride.'

Members present were Mrs. Don Gibbs, Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. Richard Wood, Mrs. Jim Oughterson, Mrs. Michael Vrettos, Mrs. Ray Loudner, Mrs. Jack Moats, Mrs. Jerry Hoppes, Mrs. John Bernard, Mrs. Tom Rankin, Mrs. Richard Hill, Mrs. Zechman, Mrs. Charles McIlvaine, Mrs. Gall, Mrs. Ronald Ratliff, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. John Gruber and Mrs. Fred Hoppes.

MISS DEBORAH L. POLK

Wedding date set for May 23

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Polk of Ohio 753, SE, have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Deborah Lynne, to Douglas W. Boswell, son of Mr. and Mrs. David K. Boswell of 521 Frank St.

Both Miss Polk and Mr. Boswell are alumnae of Washington Senior High School, and Miss Polk attended Weaver Airline School in Kansas City, Mo., while her fiancé attended Clinch Valley College in Wise, Va. She is presently employed at Steele Data Processing and he at Mac Tools, Inc. of Sabina.

Stitch and Chat Club meets

Members of the Stitch and Chat Club of Jeffersonville met in the Lions Club room for a carry-in luncheon with 18 members present. Following the invocation, places were festive with an Easter theme. A most delicious meal was served.

Mrs. Joe Ferguson, president, conducted the meeting and Mrs. Harold Cline read minutes of the February meeting in the absence of Mrs. Earl Swaney.

Mrs. Ottis Thompson gave a financial report, and of the sale of trays, the club report.

Cheer cards were signed for members and friends who are ill. Several lap robes were finished and brought to the club to be given to a nursing home. During the business session, projects for member participation were discussed. It was approved that the April meeting will be 'guest day' a white elephant sale and carry-in luncheon.

Mrs. Thurman Warnock, Mrs. Warren Armstrong, Mrs. Faye Tracey, Mrs. Imogene Mason and Mrs. Helen Coil were the hostesses.

Hostesses for the April meeting will be Mrs. Kenneth Spahr, Mrs. Reba Straley and Mrs. Olive Brookover.

Engaged

MISS JEAN A. ENOCHS

Mrs. Constance M. Enochs, of 120 E. Circle Ave., has announced the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Jean Ann, to Daniel J. Lemke of Westerville. Miss Enochs also is the daughter of the late Wilbur Enochs.

The wedding will be an event of 7:30 p.m. Aug. 30, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Monty Linder, 428 Second St.

It was agreed in 1898 that to see the ice come and go on the Yukon River was the one test to be applied for the admission of a chee-chako (newcomer) into the ranks of the sourdoughs.

Baptists to present live drama

"Are You Putting Christ on Trial?" This is the title of a live drama to be presented at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, March 27, at First Baptist Church by 23 young people of the church, of the trial of Jesus Christ. Complete colorful costumes have been purchased for the drama.

The drama presentation is open to the public, and people of the community are urged to attend. Rev. Ralph Wolford is the pastor.

Candlelight service set

The congregation and guests of the First Presbyterian Church, 214 N. Hinde St., will take part in the annual Easter Candlelight communion service at 7:45 p.m. Thursday.

Participating in the service will be members of the congregation as people in the life of Christ telling of their acquaintance with Him, and the Chancel and Bell Choirs of the church.

The service will consist mainly of hymns, scripture readings and the choir anthems. The highlight of the service will be the sacrament of communion and the period of meditation that will follow. The service will be predominantly by candlelight.

Members of the Bloomingburg Presbyterian Church will be guests of the congregation and elders from the Bloomingburg session will assist in the serving of the sacrament.

The Rev. Gerald R. Wheat stated the community is invited to take part in the service, designed as a reminder of the true meaning of Easter.

'Raggedy Ann and Andy' theme prevails at shower

Mrs. Jerry Bryan was guest of honor at a layette shower given in First Christian Church Monday evening. Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Doug White and Mrs. Thomas Parsley. A "Raggedy Ann and Andy" theme prevailed, and ceramic Raggedy Ann and Andy dolls, made by Mrs. White, decorated the table and later were presented to the honored guest.

On South Pacific voyage

Rotary hears second travelog

A second South Pacific travelog was presented to members of the Washington C.H. Rotary Club during their regular weekly lunches meeting Tuesday in the Country Club.

Dr. James E. Rose, 120 River Road, covered some of the same territory as Robert Haigler did a week ago when he presented a South Pacific travelog to Rotarians, however Dr. Rose's consisted primarily of color slides and a taped commentary.

And since Haigler concentrated heavily on Australia and New Zealand, the bulk of Dr. Rose's presentation centered around the South Pacific island of Tahiti.

A number of the slides illustrated the beautiful tropical vegetation such as coconut palms and banana trees, the gorgeous island flowers, the native dancers, both men and women, and striking scenic pictures of the volcanic peaks, the largest measuring 7,000 feet.

Dr. Rose's slides pointed out that the main island of Tahiti is about the size of Fayette County. But it is a rapid-growing island as it has twice the population of Fayette County. He said approximately 5,000 new babies are born on the island each year.

Dr. Rose, a Rotary Club member, said since the islands in the South Pacific were made from volcanic substances, all the beaches have black sand. In fact, Dr. Rose said, when the movie "Mutiny on the Bounty" was filmed on Tahiti all the beaches used as background scenery were covered with about two inches of white sand.

The slides also showed the botanical gardens on the island and an experimental oyster farm along the coast.

The meeting was conducted by club president Paul Crosby. Dr. Robert Woodmansee arranged the program.

During the business meeting, Crosby announced that the club's nominating committee will present a slate of officers for the annual election at the next regular meeting. The officers will be installed in July.

Davis Louis, president of the National Honor Society chapter at Miami Trace, attended the meeting and reminded Rotarians of the chapter's "scholarship week" which will be observed April 7-12. Activities include the students assuming the full operation of Frisch's Restaurant on Clinton Avenue for a fund-raising project.

Student guests were Alan Fleming of Miami Trace High School, and Mike Stanford of Washington Senior High School. Visiting Rotarians were Max Porter and Lynn Rainsberger of Mount Sterling, and Darrell French of Wilmington.

Guests were Ron Kemplin with Bill Pool, Rotary Club foreign exchange student Salvador Lozane with Robert Simpson, Carl Self with Don Murdock, Andy Lachat with his father, John Lachat, and Randy Creamer with his grandfather, Dr. John G. Jordan.

The commonest speech sound is the vowel a (as in the English father); no language is known to be without it.

Scout leader honored

Fred Doyle, scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop No. 67, Jeffersonville, recently received his Wood Badge "beads" at the annual council appreciation dinner held by the Central Ohio Council of the Boy Scouts of America in the Lausche Building on the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

Doyle is the second scoutmaster in the Paint Creek Valley District to receive the Wood Badge; the other was Lawson Walker of Hillsboro.

The Wood Badge was originally presented by Baden Powell, founder of the Boy Scouts, as a means of strengthening and preserving the scout movement in each country throughout the world. Its object is to demonstrate in as practical a way as possible the aims and methods of scouting and to develop scout spirit through a program of activities. Wood Badge courses in this country are conducted by the Boy Scouts of America to provide an advanced type of leadership for adult scouters.

There are two parts to a Wood Badge, the practical part and the application procedure. The practical part is an eight-day outdoor experience and those participating are exposed to the application of leadership and scouting skills as they are applied in the development of both men and boys. Through living in a scouting atmosphere for this extended period of time, they develop a scouting spirit and a zeal for the program that motivates them to do a better job in the scouting task they have accepted. A minimum of six months must elapse between the practical experience and final certification. During this period, the scoutmaster applies what he has learned and is evaluated on his performance. Throughout the period of application, each candidate is assigned a counselor who acts as a resource man, as an evaluator, and as a scouting friend. The counselor determines that the candidate fully understands what he learned from the practical course and can apply it to the betterment of the part of the scouting program in which he has agreed to serve.

Recognition for the successful completion of the Wood Badge consists of a parchment certificate, the distinctive Wood Badge neckerchief, and the Wood Badge — two wooden beads worn on a thong around the neck. The badge is recognized around the world as a symbol of practical training and leadership experience. A scoutmaster awarded the Wood Badge becomes a member of a group that numbers many thousands in nations around the world.

Others from Fayette County attending the recognition ceremony included Doyle's wife, Kelly; Mr. and Mrs. William Sowash; Mr. and Mrs. John E. Rhoads; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wood; Marvin Thornburg; and John Breitigan.

Campaign launched against emphysema

The South Central Ohio Lung Association, serving Fayette, Jackson, Lawrence, Pickaway, Pike, and Ross counties, has launched a campaign against emphysema, a disease which kills over 20,000 Americans each year.

The association has issued a list of highly susceptible emphysema victims, particularly males between 50 and 70 years old, persons who smoke heavily and those people living in areas where air pollution is a constant problem.

Reserves revise low level route

COLUMBUS — The 302nd Buckeye Tactical Airlift Wing at Rickenbacker Air Force Base, Columbus, has revised its low level flight training route over central Ohio to maximize flight crew training while reducing actual flying time to reduce fuel consumption.

The new low level route will take the Buckeye Wing's C-123 "Provider" transport aircraft through Franklin, Pickaway, Ross, Vinton, Pike, Jackson, Athens, Perry, Muskingham, Licking and Fairfield counties. The routes are flown in accordance with Federal Aviation and U.S. Air Force regulations and planned to cause the least possible inconvenience to Ohio citizens. During the day 302nd aircraft will fly the route no lower than 500 feet from the ground. At night they will fly no lower than 1000 feet.

The purpose of the low level flying is to give Ohio reservists training in low level, ground reference navigation and low level formation flying needed to slip under radar detection.

Communities located along the low level route include Groveport, Pickerington, Millersport, Laurelville, Circleville, and Lockbourne. The route begins and terminates at Rickenbacker AFB.

Emphysema, a disease often accompanied by heavy coughing, shortness of breath or breathing irritation, is developed gradually, generally due to chronic infection or irritation of the bronchial tubes and research is continuing into methods of preventing the disease.

Once the disease has been diagnosed, emphysema can be treated effectively either through antibiotics, breathing therapy equipment, breathing retraining, carefully selected exercises, aids in keeping the lungs clear of excess fluids or a combination of one or more of the treatments.

The South Central Lung Association has established a loan closet at the Ross County Medical Center for breathing therapy equipment for emphysema patients with plans for setting up additional loan closets in area hospitals.

Mrs. Robert Goodson is program associate of the South Central Lung Association for Fayette and Pickaway counties and Miss Frances White, Miss Helen Slavens and Miss Mary Frances Snider represent Fayette County on the board of directors.

Two local organizations, Alpha Theta chapter and Beta Omega chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority of Washington C.H., have assisted the association in preparing newsletters and contributing voluntary work hours to the association and the former Fayette County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Bag of ammo dangerous

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Police Specialist Ralph Gramke, a ballistics expert assigned to the Hamilton County Coroner's office, was treated at a hospital after he dropped a bag of .45-caliber bullets Tuesday and one of them went off. A casing fragment hit him in the foot, police said.

Reclamation bill OKd

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio House has approved a measure earmarking 75 per cent of the state severance tax for reclamation of abandoned mine land.

The House passed the measure 83-9 Tuesday and sent it to the Senate.

The bill's sponsor, Rep. Arthur R. Bowers, D-98 Steubenville, said proceeds from the tax are supposed to go to environmental projects now.

"But we haven't done it," he said. "The money has gone into the general fund, and no one was able to tell the committee (which considered the bill), or tell anyone who asked, where the money went."

OU seeks stabilized enrollment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University officials have attempted to convince state legislators that the institution's declining enrollment can be stabilized at 13,500 students over the next four years.

The university's student population soared to more than 18,000 in the late 1960s but it has steadily declined over the last several years. Officials concede the current 13,600 enrollment will slip by about 400 students next year.

Fred H. Johnson, an Ohio University trustee, testified before the Education Section of the House Finance Committee Tuesday, that the university "has already taken every possible and reasonable step to solve her own problem."

Johnson said the trustees had formulated a plan that could stabilize the enrollment at 13,500 with proper funding from the legislature.

Senate OKs safety rule postponement

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Senate has passed and sent to the House a bill permitting more than 500 nursing homes to delay installation of automatic sprinkler systems until as late as next Jan. 1.

The 31-1 vote came Tuesday following a 90-minute floor debate that led to changes establishing a so-called "compliance timetable."

Under the measure as now written, homes which failed to meet an original deadline of last Jan. 1, must, within 60 days of enactment of the new law, provide written plans of interim fire safety measures and show they have entered into contracts for sprinkler installations.

Sen. Douglas Applegate, D-30 Steubenville, said about 47 per cent of Ohio's 1,007 nursing homes already have complied all or in part with the requirement. Many of the remaining homes "cannot raise the capital" and need more time, he said, adding that Ohio cannot permit the homes to close "and force these elderly and disadvantaged people out into the streets."

Under a 1974 statute requiring sprinklers, the legislature provided that those who failed to comply could have their licenses revoked by the Ohio Department of Health.

The pending proposal provides for no license revocations, but states that those which fail to comply can no longer receive federal Medicaid subsidies for patient care.

Read the classifieds

He said Chancellor James A. Norton proposed for a $100,000 study to help plan the university's future was unnecessary. "We believe we have already done that," he said.

If the enrollment is allowed to drop as low as 10,000 students, Johnson said, Ohio University would have to abandon about 1-3 of its campus, eliminate academic programs and quit the Mid-American Conference. In addition, he said the university would suffer a severe loss of revenue and Athens would be hit by "an extremely high unemployment rate."

Dr. Taylor Culbert, executive vice president and dean of faculties, said after the hearing that Norton had proposed the 10,000 figure.

The regents chancellor denied it. "That's just their strategy," he said, contending that he had only asked the university to project a figure with the expectation that it would fall somewhere between 10,000 and 12,000.

Culbert told the committee that the $40.9 million appropriation for Ohio University in Gov. James A. Rhodes budget was about $5.5 million below the university's needs for the coming biennium.

Culbert said increased competition from new Ohio and Eastern schools and the imposition of a surcharge on out-of-state students had contributed to the declining enrollment.

A spokesman for the University of Cincinnati said the state-assisted school would "have to talk about serious curtailment of the curriculum" if it did not receive its full budget request.

Finance officer James Eden said Rhodes' proposed $69.7 million appropriation — a 23 per cent increase — was $13.1 million below a "bare bones continuation" budget for UC.

Rep. James T. Luken, D-24 Cincinnati, who is not a member of the committee, testified that the state should take over full funding of the financially-plagued "hybrid" university.

"This is going to be a state university in four to six years," he said. "I think everyone in this room knows it. Why mess around?"

Rep. Norman A. Murdock, R-21 Cincinnati, disagreed and argued that the university should retain its unique character rather than be "gobbled up by the state."

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—License renewal time often is an uneasy period for a broadcaster, especially if one or more citizen groups has asked the Federal Communications Commission to deny the renewal.

But broadcasters may become even more uneasy if a federal "Agency for Consumer Advocacy" proposed in a Senate bill is allowed to intervene in the license renewal process. Broadcasters face every three years.

The measure would let the agency intervene on behalf of consumers during proceedings of various federal regulatory agencies, including the FCC.

Despite claims that it's doubtful the ACA ever would intervene in broadcast license renewal cases, the National Association of Broadcasters is trying to knock out that provision.

Spokesmen for the Senate Government Operations Committee, which this month approved the bill 11-1, emphasize that it narrowly limits ACA intervention to cases of "substantial" consumer interest in a "marketplace transaction" where buying and selling occurs.

Dick Wegman, the committee's chief counsel, says it's highly unlikely the proposed agency ever would intervene in a license renewal case because "there's no marketplace transaction involved."

"As a practical matter, ACA wouldn't get into license renewal simply because its (proposed) budget is too limited," says Jerry Murphy of Congress Watch, a group formed by consumer advocate Ralph Nader, who supports the pending ACA bill.

Murphy says the agency might intervene in major cases involving the national consumer interest, "but it would be absurd to envision the ACA going in on every single license renewal. It's impossible."

The NAB, the leading industry group, represents the three TV networks, 541 TV stations and 4,025 radio stations. It says it takes no public position on the bill in general, or the FCC's specific inclusion in it.

It says it's only fighting the provision giving the ACA power to intervene in license renewal cases because it feels "there is no demonstrable need for a new federal agency to interfere in a process in which there already is substantial public participation."

Orlett case being heard

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A man who blocked Rep. Edward J. Orlett's car as it left a state parking lot had no right to do so, contended an attorney for Orlett, D-34 Dayton, who is charged with felonious assault.

George F. Dempster, 64, assistant manager of the Statehouse underground parking garage, has accused Orlett of attempting to run him over as Dempster tried to collect a charge for parking.

A preliminary hearing was held Tuesday in Franklin County Municipal Court where Judge G. W. Fais will rule Friday on whether the felony charge will be sent to a grand jury or be reduced to a misdemeanor.

Dempster has claimed that Orlett drove his car into him after the lawmaker was unable to produce a parking ticket and was told he would have to pay a set fee or go back and get his legislator's pass. Orlett has said he offered to sign a blank receipt or pay the fee.

Thomas Tyack, Orlett's attorney, argued that Dempster had no right to block Orlett's path. He also claimed that the automobile is not a deadly weapon.

Orlett, 41, a former Trotwood city councilman, faces a possible 2-15 year sentence and fine if convicted.

Cast preps for musical

Pictured above — in front of the billboard on Ohio 41-N — is a portion of the cast and crews of "The Music Man." The musical is to be given by Miami Trace High School April 18 and 19 at 8 P.M. in the school auditorium. The show revolves around 20 main characters, one of these being Tommy Djilas, played by John Milstead.

Tommy is a boy from the wrong side of the tracks who is known for many a mischievous deed. He is not pictured above.

Was Tommy Djilas suddenly overcome with a desire to display his artistic talents? Did Tommy throw the paint on the sign?

Folksinger tryouts held

BY KATHY JUNK

Folksinger tryouts were held recently, and the following students were selected for 1975-76 membership: Cindy Grover, Cheryl Blue, Denise Beoddy, Angela Holbert, Kathy Edward, Kathy Junk, Lynn Acton, Carmen White, Yvonne McCarty, Julie Persinger, Karmel Knedler, Twila Dennis, Kelli Gilmore, Kathy Jacobs, Marilyn Creamer, Julie Fetters, Jay Pendleton, Gretchen Kreiger.

Alternates are Debbie Haines, Reggie Dowler, Cindy Baird, Brenda Joseph, Sharon Jenkins, and Lisa Camp. Sixteen people from the Folksingers were also selected for a special group.

Approximately 70 students tried out. They were judged on a solo song of their choice and on ear training. Things considered for each performance were tone quality, volume, pitch, interpretation, and stage presence. Those who judged the tryouts were Mrs. Cinda Stinson, vocal music director, and students Elsie Hill, Beanie Cross, Jomi Warner, Doug Joseph, and Danny Lowe.

Parking meters no longer penny

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Penny parking meters in Cincinnati's outlying areas will be eliminated under a general increase in public parking prices recommended to Cincinnati City Council.

A Chicago consultant wants the meters allowing 12 minutes parking for one cent replaced by nickel meters.

Downtown parking for the first hour would be 25 cents under the plan.

Youth Activities

COUNTRY COUSINS 4-H

The members of Country Cousins 4-H Club recently enjoyed a trip to Monique Fabrics. Mrs. James Cunningham and Mrs. Donald Lange, advisers, explained many different fabrics. Members studied the fabrics and looked at patterns.

They then went to the Dairy Queen for refreshments. The next meeting will be April 1 at the home of Joanie McCoy.

WAHANKA KA TA CF

The Wahanka Ka Ta Camp Fire Group held their meeting after school when Denise Tate, president, brought the meeting to order. Vice president Kari Wolfe led the Pledge of Allegiance and Tonda Lute collected dues.

Mrs. Yarger, leader, informed the girls that we will sell daffodils March 22 at Food World, for the Cancer fund. We then made our place mats and name cards for the Potlatch March 25.

Refreshments were served by Denise Tate and Kari Wolfe. At the next meeting March 26, refreshments will be served by Le Ann Mattson and Holly Evans.

Pam Yarger, scribe

4-H TRACTOR CLUB

The meeting of the 4-H Tractor Club was called to order by President J. Fannin at the Greenline Equipment Co. The pledges were led by Don Eyre. The secretaries report was given by Dick Davis and Jeff Schlichter read the treasurer's report. John Geesling told us about a trip to International Harvester in Springfield, and Greg Gustin gave a health report on "Vitamins".

The meeting was adjourned and we broke up into groups. Refreshments were served by Greenline Equipment. Our next meeting will be held March 26 at The Parts & Service Center.

Registrars said sloppy accountants

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Bureau of Motor Vehicles has been keeping inaccurate records of license plate validation stickers, state Auditor Thomas Ferguson charged Tuesday.

Ferguson said audits of more than 60 deputy registrars showed over half of them had inventories listing more or less stickers than were actually on hand.

The auditor said in one instance, a check showed a deputy listed 650 truck license stickers, when he had 1,200 on hand. At $60 a sticker, $33,000 could have gone unaccounted for in that one case, Ferguson contended.

Chief Registrar Curtis Andrews said an 85 per cent turnover of deputies and the first year distribution of validation stickers were to blame for any confusion. But he said he was unaware of any errors of the magnitude the auditor mentioned.

"There are bound to be some errors that occur, the changeover was late because of the recount (in the November governor's race) and the deputies have only been on the job two weeks. They didn't have time to plan for the sticker distribution, but I find it hard to believe an error of that size exists."

Ferguson is a Democrat, and Andrews is an appointee of Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes.

receiving such honors as Letterman, honorable mention All-SCOL his junior year, and being elected tri-captain of the 1974 No. 1 Panther football team. He was also chosen for the All-SCOL, All-District, and honorable mention All-Ohio teams, and nominated for prep All-American.

Besides being very sports minded, he is also a member of Future Teachers and president of Varsity M Club. He appeared in Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Comments on his years at Trace were, "My years at Miami Trace have been the best years of my life. Although there have been some bad times, it seems you only remember the good."

Jay Edward Mossbarger, son of Dr. and Mrs. Donald Mossbarger of Bloomingburg, plans to attend Capital University and major in broadcasting.

Family living is listed as his favorite class. His hobbies include sports and being outdoors.

Jay has been an active member of FFA for four years, 4-H for six years, and Varsity M for three years, serving as vice-president. He belongs to FTA and AFS and is on the Mitra staff. He has been in the musical one year and the Outdoorsman Club for two years. He has been on the basketball team for two years and the football and baseball teams for four years.

Comments on his years at Trace were, "I have enjoyed my friends and activities at Miami Trace, but I will sure be glad to get out."

"The underclassmen should enjoy their years at Trace because they will be gone before they know it," was the advice from Danny Lowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lowe, Rt. 4, Washington C. H.

Danny has been very outgoing serving as stage manager for the past three musicals, including this year's "The Music Man." He has been in marching band for four years and symphonic band three, having been elected president of both groups this year. One year in concert band, three years in Varsity M, three years in the A.V. Club, and three years in Folksingers round out his busy schedule.

Business law was listed as his favorite class and doing stage work and electronics are among his hobbies.

Dan plans to attend Ohio Institute of Technology and study electronics.

Thomas Rodney Reisinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Welby Reisinger, Rt. 1, Mount Sterling, lists playing basketball, reading good books, watching TV, listening to good music, and having a good time as his hobbies.

Otterbein or Capital University are his choices for furthering his education.

Tom has been a member of the Panther football team for four years and a Letterman for three years. He was selected for All-SCOL first team, All-District first team, and All-Ohio third team. He has a prep All-American nominee for 1975. He is also a member of FTA.

Tom comments, "The years I have spent at Trace have been really fantastic; I've had my ups and downs, but most of the times were good."

Softball team prepared

The Miami Trace girls' softball team is looking forward to another successful season, according to Coach Sandy Sowash. The girls have been practicing for two weeks now and are ready for their first game April 8.

The Pantherettes have 10 returning lettermen, including Senior Captain Pam Matson, Michele Cockerill, Sally Gaylord, Sherry Graf, Jodie Hatfield, Debbie Morarity, Teresa Palmer, Freda Swaney, Jeri Wilson, and Cindy Woods. Other girls on the team are Kerry Brown, Debbie Eddleman, Patty Garrison, Debbie Halthcock, Tammy Harlan, Sharon Jenkins, Beth Jenks, Tammy Matson, Ruth Morris, Patty Newlan, and Brenda Wilt.

With another two weeks practice before the first game and a 9-0 season last year, Coach Sowash expressed her views by saying, "We have such a fine team, with all players except three returning from last year, that we will be hard to beat."

All games are at 4:30 p.m. and the home games are played at Eber school.

SCHEDULE

DAFFODIL DONATION — Pictured is Charles Moore, treasurer of Mac Tool, Inc., U.S. 35-S, presenting a check for $100 to Wanda McMurray, president of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority in Fayette County. The money will be used by the sorority to purchase daffodils (the first flower of spring, symbolizing "hope") to be put in the Deaview Nursing Home and the Fischer Convalescent Center. The sum will purchase roughly 40 dozen of the yellow flowers. Flanking Moore in the photo on the left is Dick Anthony, general cancer crusade co-chairman, and next to Mrs. McMurray is Wanda Taylor, special events chairwoman for the Fayette County Unit of The American Cancer Society and Pam Haines, philanthropic chairwoman for the Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority.

Forgery defendants sentenced

Two Washington C.H. men and a Missouri resident have appeared in Fayette County Common Pleas Court for sentencing on charges of forgery. Two were placed on probation while the other was sentenced to prison.

Frank J. Groves, 20, of 1143 Rawlings St., was sentenced by Judge Evelyn W. Coffman to a term of six months to five years in prison after he pleaded guilty to forgery charges filed by city police March 18.

James D. Tranner, 19, of 702 Rose Ave., was placed on probation for cashing the check Groves had forged. He was sentenced to a six-month to five-year term, but Judge Coffman suspended the sentence in favor of three-year probation.

Groves reportedly found a blank check on S. North Street and filled it out for $25 payable to Tranner. Tranner in turn cashed the check at Risch's Drug store.

A clerk in the store became suspicious because the check belonged to the Snack Shack in New Holland. She contacted Robert Frazier, owner of the establishment, who said that he had lost the check.

The police were notified, and Police Specialist Larry Hott investigated the matter. He had seen Tranner and Groves enter the drug store at approximately the time the check was cashed and called them in for questioning. They eventually admitted the forgery, and $17 of the original $25 was recovered.

A factor in Groves' sentencing was the fact that at the time of the incident he was on parole for a Washington C.H. burglary.

Edwin M. Peischel, 19, of St. Peters, Mo., was arrested in February on an unrelated forgery charge. He was sentenced to a term of six months to five years, but the prison term was suspended and he was placed on two-year probation.

He had endorsed a check last fall which was cashed at Hidy Foods. When the check was returned marked "no account," the store notified the Washington C.H. Police Department, which issued a warrant for Peischel. A search for him proved futile, until late February when the Clayton, Mo., police contacted local officers to inform them that they had arrested the suspect.

Hott and Police Specialist Larry Walker traveled to Missouri to return Peischel for trial here.

All three waived their right to indictment by the grand jury and their right to trial. Each pleaded guilty to a statement of facts entered by assistant Fayette County prosecuting attorney John H. Roszmann, before sentencing.

Plate altering charge lodged

A Lakeview man has been arrested by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department and charged with altering a license plate and driving without an operator's license.

Sheriff Donald L. Thompson stated Michael T. Carmen, 20, was stopped early Wednesday on U.S. 22 in Union Township, by Deputy D. L. Cox, who stated, "his rear license plate just didn't look right with paint drips running down."

In talking to Carmen, Deputy Cox was able to find out he had removed an old rusty license plate from another vehicle he had owned, painted it and put it on his present vehicle. Deputy Cox charged him with altering a license plate.

Bond for this charge was set at $500 and bond for operating without a license was set at $60, leaving Carmen incarcerated within the county jail in lieu of a total of $560 bond.

Consumers still not buying

By G.G. LaBELLE
Associated Press Writer

The American consumer apparently still is hesitant about buying a new house and a new car to park out front.

Major auto makers reported Tuesday that sales for mid-March remained below last year's levels, and figures from the Federal Home Loan Bank Board showed more mortgage money available but potential home buyers still waiting to see which way the economy is going before buying.

The figures also showed home mortgage rates, headed down recently, may be leveling off.

Railroads were granted a long-sought freight increase, meanwhile, and the stock market had its first up day in a week despite an early drop resulting from uncertainty over possible repercussions from the assassination of Saudi Arabian King Faisal.

On the mortgage front, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board reported deposits were up over withdrawals at savings and loans at a higher rate last month than in January and only slightly below the records of January 1972 and 1973. Scarcity of money for home loans last summer and fall was a primary factor in the housing slump.

Despite the fresh supply of lendable money, the bank board's monthly report showed volume of loans for February, at $1.1 billion, still $201 million below a year ago, though up $122 million over January.

The indication of a firming up in home mortgage rates came from the Federal National Mortgage Association, which provides the closest thing to a national barometer of home loan rate trends. Its latest figures showed rates up for the first time since September.

For federally insured loans the average rate was 8.847 per cent, compared to a 8.781 per cent rate two weeks ago. For loans insured conventionally, the average rate was 8.997, compared to 8.962 per cent two weeks earlier.

The association's figures also indicated, however, that lenders are at least preparing for a heavier loan volume in the months ahead.

Meanwhile, the nation's major automakers said mid-March sales were 29 per cent below a year ago. The year earlier sales were relatively good due to promotions aimed at overcoming consumer fears of gas shortages, but the latest figures were still the lowest in 14 years.

The sales rate in mid-March was up 12 per cent from early March, the first period since rebates of up to $600 were stopped at all the companies but Chrysler Corp.

In recent years, however, mid-March sales have been up an average 30 per cent over early-March. Last year they were up 50 per cent because of the sales contests launched to counteract the Mideast oil embargo.

Analysts had expected a sharp post-rebate sales drop in early-March, but sales were down only 3.4 per cent from the year before.

The Dow Jones industrial average was down almost 10 at one point Tuesday but closed 4.46 on the plus side, at 747.89. Analysts said the upswing started with reports the news Saudi leaders would be friendly to the United States.

In Washington, the Interstate Commerce Commission granted railroads a 7 per cent freight rate increase on commodities including most foods and coal and oil. Exempted were materials for troubled industries such as autos, auto parts, lumber and construction material.

The new rate is expected to become effective early in April.

Auto mishaps show decline

The Fayette County Sheriff's report for the month of February, 1975, showed a decrease in traffic accidents and injuries from them, along with a decrease in bad checks and larcenies, as compared to February, 1974's report.

The statement also showed an increase in burglaries, destruction of property incidents, dog and other animal bites and complaints received in office.

Sheriff Donald L. Thompson's statistics indicated 56 accidents investigated for the month and 19 injuries, one bad check and 22 larcenies. In February, 1974, there were 63 accidents and 20 injuries, seven bad checks and 27 larcenies.

Burglaries increased to five, as compared to two a year ago; destruction of property, 13, compared to three a year ago, dog and animal bites, four, as compared to one a year ago and a total of 333 complaints were received by the sheriff's department, as compared to 282 in February, 1974.

Sheriff Thompson also reported five larceny reports cleared by arrest in February and seven persons arrested during the month on felony charges.

Mortgages hit $2.4 million

New real estate mortgages totaling $2,462,100.25 were recorded in Fayette County during February, the monthly report prepared by Mrs. Lorie M. Armbrust, county recorder, discloses.

The new mortgage figure showed a significant decrease when compared with the January figure of $3,420,721.50. Mortgage releases totaled $483,347.25. Last month mortgage releases were $879,391.70.

The $2.4 million mortgage figure includes $673,399.25 on 39 lots and other platted properties, and $1,798,700.60 on 2,749.08 acres of farm real estate in 24 transactions.

Released during the month were $399,968 in mortgages on 37 lots and $383,379.25 in liens on 801.52 acres of farm property in seven transactions.

Sixty-nine deeds were recorded in February, 27 of them changed title to 2,892.20 acres of farm property. There were seven certificates for transfer, one for a lot and six for rural properties.

Other instruments recorded in February were:

Two court orders for transfer, four affidavits for transfer, one death certificate in aid of title, four right of ways and easements, 10 cemetery deeds, five open-end mortgages, two supplemental mortgage indentures, two land contracts, three mortgage assignments, one land contract release, one recorded land contract release, three recorded partial mor-rtgage releases, eight recorded mortgage releases, one mechanic's lien, one lease, one lease release, one trust agreement, two power of attorney, two soldier's discharges and 82 financing statements.

On registered land, two mortgage releases were recorded.

Glenn pushes legislation to expand power of Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation has been introduced by Sen. John H. Glenn, D-Ohio, that would require all executive agreements to undergo Senate advice and consent procedures.

Under the bill, the Senate would have 60 days to act on any international agreement involving United States resources.

Failure to act within that time period places the executive agreement into effect.

Glenn said the executive agreement device is a major cause of the dilemma America faces in Indochina.

"We've apparently conducted an eight-year war almost by executive agreement," he said. "That should never be permitted to happen again."

Glenn said the nation has many other "long-standing international commitments, formally approved by no one but a few, if not just one individual, in the executive branch."

The Ohio senator's proposal would also permit the President to designate a proposed agreement as "secret."

In that case, the agreement would be reviewed by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Glenn said executive agreements are replacing treaties as the principal international accords involving the U.S.

Citing Library of Congress figures, he noted that through 1974 the U.S. had concluded 411 treaties, which are subject to Senate advice and consent, and 6,113 executive agreements.

"Such a system, with no checks, can have grave consequences in today's world climate if the President becomes physically or mentally incapacitated or under duress," Glenn said.

A similar bill was introduced by former Sen. Sam Ervin of North Carolina in the last session of Congress.

Ervin was then head of the Government Operations Committee that Glenn now serves on.

The measure was approved by the Senate but the House failed to act on it.

Fayette Area Bankers join in sponsoring TV special

Television viewers will gain new insight into the life of the young Abraham Lincoln when the third hour-long special, based on Carl Sandburg's Pulitzer Prize-winning biography of Abraham Lincoln, is presented on the NBC television network.

The Fayette Area Bankers Association, through its membership in the American Bankers Association (ABA), will co-sponsor the color television network production of "Prairie Lawyer" when it is telecast at 8 p.m. Monday, April 7 on Channel 4.

In the title role, Broadway's Tony Award winner Hal Holbrook portrays a bright, energetic partner of the Stuart-Lincoln law office. Lincoln takes on an important murder case in which the prosecuting attorney is using the trial as a campaign platform for a seat in Congress.

While Lincoln must devote his energies to defend a man who is not entirely in the clear, he is also troubled by a complicated love affair with a woman he has committed himself to marry.

Holbrook has received high praise for his portrayal of Lincoln in the two specials that have already been presented in this six-part series. The role is played in full make-up to resemble the 16th President. In this third program, Holbrook again looks the part, but this time as a younger Lincoln, who has not yet grown his distinctive beard.

Each of the six programs in the series concentrates on a different aspect of the "man" Lincoln as he is depicted in Carl Sandburg's six-volume biography. The remaining three programs in the series will be presented in the fall 1975 television season.

Seniors to get class trip after helping cancer victim

FREDONIA, Ariz. (AP) — Fredonia High School seniors who voted to give up a longplanned trip to California and used most of the trip money they had saved to help a classmate ill with cancer are going after all.

School Supt. Bill McLaughlin said Tuesday the trip is scheduled for May 14-19.

The seniors presented Mike Hatch with a $1,000 check last Friday, his 18th birthday, to help him meet expenses of his treatment.

The money was part of $1,700 the class had been saving since the eighth grade for the trip. The money was earned by washing cars, holding raffles, babysitting, selling refreshments at ball games and sponsoring other fund-raising projects.

The class decided to use the other $700 for a trip to nearby Lake Powell.

However, spokesmen for the school said a news account of the gift was read in La Jolla, Calif., by Carl Baber and Frank Doyle, president and vice president respectively of the Student Educational Loan Fund Group.

Baber and Doyle raised $1,700 from civic and business organizations, mainly in San Diego, and will forward the money to the Fredonia seniors this week, school spokesmen said.

In addition, Baber and Doyle arranged for free admission for the students to the San Diego Zoo, Sea World and San Diego Wildlife Park. They also are working for reduced rates at Disneyland and at motels and cafes.

Hatch, released from the hospital Tuesday after four days of treatment for an infection, should be able to make the trip with his classmates if there are no complications, his doctor said.

Spokesmen say his cancer is believed checked but that he still faces extensive medical treatment.

The 25 students and their chaperones, a party of 30 in all, are to make the trip by bus.

School spokesmen said cards came to Mike and the seniors from well-wishers throughout the country. One Tekoa, Wash., woman enclosed a $100 check, saying she has cancer and knows the expense involved.

Hampshire sale slated

Junior judging competition will be one of the highlights of the Ohio Hampshire Swine Breeders Association sale at the Clark County Fairgrounds, Springfield, Saturday afternoon.

Judging will begin at 3 p.m. and will be open to all FFA and 4-H members who are still in school. There will be separate individual classes for those 13 years of age and for those 12 years and under. Team competition will not have class divisions.

Registration will begin at 1:30 p.m., and after a short introduction, there will be a panel discussion on selection of breeding and market animals which will begin at 2:35 p.m.

In addition to trophies for the high finishers in the judging competition, there will be purchasing certificates. With these certificates, the winners will be able to purchase animals during the sale at reduced prices.

A show will begin at 5:30 p.m. and the sale of Hampshires from some of Ohio's top herds will commence at 7:30 p.m.

Further information may be obtained from Charlie Andrews, 335-1994.

The word "taxicab" was coined in New York. "Taxi" came from a French company that made taxi meters for horse carriages; cab abbreviated the French word for cabriolet, a light, one-horse carriage.

JAYCEE ACTION — Gary Shaffer goes up with a hook shot to score a couple for Superior Carpet in Jaycee Tournament action Tuesday night. Superior went on to beat Bob's Super Value, 99-89, to earn a game with Legion Post 653 tonight at 9 o'clock in the Washington Middle School gym. Two winners' bracket games are scheduled for 6 and 7:30 p.m.

Three big games scheduled tonight in Jaycee tourney

The Jaycee tournament field has dwindled to eight teams with three big games on tap tonight starting at 6 o'clock in the Washington Middle School gymnasium.

The four remaining squads in the winners' bracket will square off in the night's first two games with K.F.C. 624 taking on Harris Auction and Mt. Orab facing Bobb Brothers.

K.F.C. 626 has beaten two teams, Haller Funeral Home and tough Superior Carpet, who, still in contention after posting victories in the losers' bracket during last night's tourney play while Harris Auction has defeated a tough Legion Post 653 squad in earning a winners' bracket berth.

In the second contest at 7:30, Mt. Orab and Bobb Brothers will be trying to stay in the winners' bracket.

IN THE BIG 9 o'clock contest, Superior Carpet and Legion Post 353 will square off with the losing team dropping from the tournament.

BOX SCORES

The matchup promises to be a high scoring affair with both teams scoring around 100 points a game.

Superior Carpet eliminated Bob's Super Value last night by a 99-89 score. Superior got 36 points from sharp-shooter Phil Snow and Gary Shaffer added 35. Chuck Free and Ray Simondigger scored 22 apiece for the losers.

In other games last night, Pucketts All-stars forfeited to Haller Funeral Home and dropped from the tournament's losers' bracket. Creditt Construction came from seven points back with a minute to play and eliminated Rudduck's Raiders, 86-83, in the night's final game. Five Credit players scored in double figures with Rick Burton's 20 points leading the way.

Admission for tonight's contest is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Reds bombard Grimsley

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Baltimore hurler Ross Grimsley, who was pelted for six runs by his former teammates on the Cincinnati Reds, said he is still glad he was traded to the Orioles "because they know how to treat you like a human being."

Grimsley was tormented mainly by reserve outfielder George Foster who had a perfect 3-for-3 day with two doubles, a home run and four runs batted in in the 6-3 exhibition game victory Tuesday.

"The trouble with Cincinnati is the way they treat their players — like machines," said Grimsley.

"There must be something wrong with a club that comes so close and never wins the big ones," he said, noting the Reds have been in contention three of the last four seasons but have been unable to win a world championship.

Foster, meanwhile, noted that he is still a fourth man in a three man outfield but is not discouraged.

"That's the way it's going to be as long as I'm with this club," said Foster, who had seven hits in his last 11 trips to the plate.

"I'm theirs until Cesar Geronimo is ready to play every day." Foster is being platooned against righthand pitchers.

"If I can have good years and have good raises, I'll be somewhat satisfied. If I do well I'll build my value up and someone will be interested in me."

"The situation is like being the sixth man on a basketball team. Sometimes, though, the sixth man can be as important as the starters," he said.

The victory was the first for rookie righthander Tom Carroll, hoping to win a place on the Reds pitching staff. He went six innings giving up two runs and five hits but struck out seven.

Foster doubled home two runs in the first and third innings and scored on Rettenmund's single. He homered in the fifth.

Baltimore's Don Baylor, who is hitting a blistering .541 this spring, collected his sixth homer in the last six games and 12th run batted in.

Mark Belanger and Jim Northrup also had run scoring singles for the Orioles.

The Reds host the National League Champion Los Angeles Dodgers today.

Panther thinclads brave cold, snow to beat Greenfield in opening meet

WINTER OLYMPICS? — The Miami Trace-Greenfield track meet went on as scheduled Tuesday afternoon despite the blowing snow with the Panthers coming out on top, 64-54. Miami Trace Assistant Athletic Director Richard Hill signals a group of milers that they near the half way point in the race. Finishing times during the meet were far from being record breakers but the top marks were rather impressive considering that track conditions were more suitable to the Winter Olympics.

The Miami Trace track team braved freezing temperatures and blowing snow Tuesday afternoon at the MT track to defeat Greenfield in a duel meet 64-54.

The cold weather, more reminiscent of the indoor track season, seemed to agree, at least a little bit, with the Panther thinclads, because they posted their first duel victory in a long, long time according to Coach Fred Zechman.

Kirk Neff led the way for Miami Trace placing first in the long jump, the low hurdles and the highs to be the meets' only triple winner. Traces Bill Warnock took first in the 440 and the 220 to go with a third in the 100 yard dash in scoring 12 points for the Panthers.

Gary Combs took first in the mile and half-mile for the Panthers on the very cold and breezy track.

Greenfield won the mile relay and the 880-relay along with a sweep of the high jump to keep the meet close and the minds off the weather.

RESULTS

Long Jump — Neff (MT), 16'-11; Purdin (G); Knisley (G)

Discus — Adams (G), 172'-8, Wilson (MT); Conley (G).

High Jump — Willis (G), 5'-0, Knisley (G); Purdin (G)

Shot — Adams (G), 45'-10½, R. Warnock (MT); Wilson (MT).

120 H.H. — Neff (MT) 18.5, Ervin (MT); Smith (MT).

100 — Gregg (G) 10.8, Smith (G), Tie-Harris (MT) and B. Warnock (MT).

Mile — Combs (MT) 5:31, Rodgers (MT); Hildebrand (G).

440 — B. Warnock (MT), :57.4, Anderson (G); Dissinger (G).

88-Relay — Greenfield 1:47.7.

180 L.H. — Neff (MT), 24.8, Ervin (MT); Fleming (MT).

880 — Combs (MT) 2:22.6, Weaver (G); Rodgers (MT).

220 — B. Warnock (MT); :26.0; Watts (G); Gregg (G).

Two Mile — Lucas (MT) 12:17.5; Borda (MT); Prindle (MT).

Mile Relay — Greenfield, 4:07.5.

NCAA playoffs have everything

By The Associated Press

The NCAA's basketball playoffs have everything this year:

—A perennial champion in UCLA.

—A team loaded with tradition in Kentucky.

—A rising power in Louisville.

—And Syracuse.

Syracuse? Yes, Syracuse.

The team that nobody expected with players that nobody wanted is among the final four at this year's glamorous playoffs in San Diego. And nobody is more surprised than Syracuse.

"It's unbelievable," says Sports Information Director Larry Kimball. And few would disagree.

The Orangemen are an unlikely pretender to the crown. They started the season with three of last year's starters gone. None of their players, including powerhouse forward Rudy Hackett, was heavily recruited by anybody.

Coach Roy Danforth didn't have his starting team of Hackett, Chris Sease, Earnie Seibert, Jim Lee and Jim Williams playing as a uni until the ninth game of the season.

When the Orangemen won the ECAC's New York State tournament and took an at-large berth in the NCAA East Regional playoffs, they weren't given a chance to get past the first round.

But something that Danforth likes to call "character" continued to emerge and Syracuse upset La Salle.

Hamilton County challenge ends

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Hamilton County's vote system controversy has been ended after a challenger withdrew his appeal protesting the purchase of the Votomatic System for $1.1 million.

Henry S. Hilberg, of Cincinnati, who sells a rival Datavote system, dropped his appeal Tuesday to the 1st Ohio District Court of Appeals.

Hilberg earlier lost a suit in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court challenging the competitive bidding specifications prepared by the Hamilton County Board of Elections.

Hilberg charged the specifications eliminated all competitors but Votomatic.

Congratulations to Kaufman's Decorating Centre on the completion and formal opening of their new building. The willingness of Connie and J. O. Garringer to depart from the usual downtown style of business building in favor of an inviting and traditional style salesroom shows foresight and confidence in the people of our community.

The Great Oaks Company, Inc. is highly complimented to have been chosen to both design and build this attractive facility, and we are most proud to leave another landmark on the face of our community.

Our very best wishes to Kaufman's Decorating Centre for their continued success.

There are all kinds of commandments promulgated by all kinds of authorities that tell you never to do this or always to do that—lest dire consequences ensue.

But the mark of a good player is that he knows when to override these commandments—because, to always obey them would amount to blind obedience to rules. Hard thinking is much more effective.

Speaking of Your Health... Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

High Altitude Problems

I noticed that I become very uncomfortable when I go to a high altitude. This happened in Mexico City, and twice while I was skiing. It seems that I'm the only one who's bothered.

Miss R.W., Neb.

Dear Miss W.:
It is difficult to understand why some people are affected more than others by "mountain sickness."

Mountain climbers, skiers and ordinary travelers who are suddenly transported to high altitudes may develop dizziness, rapid respiration, headache, a sense of weakness and an increased heart rate.

Many people affected by altitude complain that, for a day or two, they are unable to sleep. Dr. Maurice J. Leon, of the Montclair Community Hospital in New Jersey, has been particularly interested in the condition and has made some helpful suggestions.

He says, "When a trip to a high altitude is anticipated it is prudent to decrease the total food intake and increase the carbohydrate proportion... It is often helpful to carry hard candy as a dietary supplement.

"A barbiturate, taken for one or two nights before and the first few nights after the traveler's arrival, will minimize the insomnia."

Skiers and travelers who have followed his suggestions by also eliminating tobacco and alcohol have markedly reduced the headache and nausea that may result from high altitudes.

It would be wise, of course, to find out if there are any special medical reasons for your discomfort.

How can you unspoil a five-year old child who is demanding, has temper tantrums and runs our house?

Mrs. J.E.L., N.C.

Dear Mrs. L.:
You are undoubtedly a few years late getting started in the process of "unspooling" your child. Overpermissiveness and overindulgence can do both the child and the parent a great injustice.

Unfortunately, many children can actually terrorize a household of adults.

My suggestion is that you set up firm, but reasonable, rules and insist that your child conform to them. Unreasonable or harsh punishment is not the way to solve the problem.

It is an established rule that the limits established for children by their parents contribute as much to their security as the love that is given them. Be kind to your child... learn how to say, "No."

PROGRESSIVE FARMERS

The March 17 meeting of the Wayne Progressive Farmers 4-H Club was called to order by president Cindy Baird. Roll call was answered by identifying a safety hazard that could be remedied.

The upcoming Fish Fry was discussed and posters publicizing the event were distributed to the members. Each member was asked to be sure when they were to work and what they were to bring in order to make the Fish Fry a success. The Fish Fry will be held Friday, March 28, in Wayne Township Hall from 5:30 to 8 p.m., and the price of admission will be $1.50. Tickets may be purchased from any club member or at the door.

The Dorset sheep judging contest was announced and teams were formed. This was held at the Fayette County Fairgrounds on Saturday.

A safety report entitled "Safety in the Home" was given by Junior Safety Leader Julie Shepard. She emphasized the importance of having a home free from safety hazards. Susan Shepard gave an informative report on "New Standards of Auto Safety" and Michelle Geesling spoke on "Allergies."

The next meeting was Monday in the Good Hope gym. John Burr, Doug Bonham, Chris Burr, Jeff Wilt, and Jon Wilt provided reports and Julie Fetters and the Anderson family provided refreshments.

BELLE AIRE 4-H HELPFUL HOMEMAKERS

The Belle-Aire Helpful Homemakers 4-H Club held their first meeting at the school. Amy Hurley led the Pledges and Mrs. Howard Wright and Mrs. Charles Tye discussed projects and project books with club members. Mrs. Wright served refreshments.

The next meeting also took place at the school. Roll call was answered with the girls giving the name of their project, and Patty Murphy led the pledges.

Elected as new officers were Tammy Schneider, president; Maribeth Cleary, vice president; Amy Hurley, secretary; Anne Tye, treasurer; Susan Wright, news reporter; Andi Anderson, health and safety leader; and Patty Murphy, recreation leader.

There was a discussion of ideas for community projects and field trips, but nothing definite was decided. It was announced that the group will meet March 26 after school to go to the Monique Fabric Shop to look at the fabrics and get ideas for projects.

Officer books and project books were given out and the girls were assigned to read the books by the next meeting. Refreshments were served by Kim Ferguson and Katie Moore.

The next meeting will be April 2 at Belle-Aire School.

Susan Wright, reporter

COUNTRY COOKS 4-H

The Country Cooks held their third 4-H meeting at the Madison Mills School. Michele Ford led the group in the 4-H Pledge and members answered roll call by naming their favorite cookies. The members decided to go to the Margaret Clark Oakfield Convalescent Center June 1. Girls will make baskets to give the people there.

Kathy Hanawalt made a health report on "Personal Grooming." Jodi Hanawalt gave a demonstration on "Making a Ham Salad Sandwich," and Jodi and Susan Payne served ham salad sandwiches, potato chips, and fruit punch. Debra Strahler said the prayer.

At the March 18 meeting, members signed the Constitution. Assignments were made to each member.

The next meeting will be from 4 to 5:30 p.m. April 1 at the Madison Mills School. Michele Ford will give a demonstration and she and Kathy Hanawalt will serve refreshments.

Susan Payne, reporter

RIP N STITCH 4-H

The Rip-N-Stitch 4-H club held a meeting in the home of Mrs. Betty Smith, when Susie Evans, vice president, conducted the meeting. Pledges were made and led by Kim Conley and Gail Camstra.

Projects were discussed and a visit to Quiet Acres Nursing Home, Program cooks containing the club's future activities, were given out. April 2 is the date for patterns and materials to be brought by the girls. "Wink" was played for recreation, and Robin Rayburn and Debbie Ellars brought refreshments.

The next meeting will be April 2 in the home of Kathy Warnock, president. Refreshments were served by Kathy Warnock and Debbie Rayburn.

Purse-snatching case checked

The second purse-snatching incident in two days was reported by Washington C.H. police, along with the breaking and entering of a local business. The Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported two larcenies and the fifth incident of trash dumping since the weekend.

Mabel Briggs' purse was snatched from her hand by a white male in his late teens or early 20s, as she walked in front of 219 Forest St., at 4:15 p.m. Tuesday.

Washington C.H. police said the thief ran up behind her, grabbed the purse and then headed in the direction of E. Market Street.

Ms. Briggs' purse contained keys, two 5-dollar bills, some loose change, her check book and other miscellaneous items.

The office area inside a rental building owned by L and N Enterprises, 432 East St., located at 330 E. Court St., was broken into sometime Monday night by someone who pried the door to gain entry.

Police reported the office vacant except for some discarded items and nothing missing, nor disturbed.

The fifth incident of trash dumping since the weekend was reported to Fayette County Sheriff's deputies by a man who saw the driver in front of him toss a green wine bottle out of his car, smashing it on the bridge at the intersection of Creamer and Sugar Creek roads.

Sheriff's deputies are seeking the person responsible.

A 23-channel citizen's band radio valued at $225, was stolen from an auto owned by Shirley Forsha, while the car was parked at her 12 Fent Street residence in Jeffersonville.

Sheriff's deputies believe the incident to have occurred sometime between 1 a.m. and 3:45 p.m. Tuesday. They are investigating.

A billfold containing $150 in cash, some keys, checks and papers, belonging to Mary Mahaffey, Beech Grove Road, was lost at Pennington Bakery, CCC-Highway-W, sometime Tuesday.

Police reported that when Ms. Mahaffey detected the loss, she phoned Pennington, but they could not locate the missing billfold. Police believe someone may have picked it up and taken it.

Arrests

SHERIFF

TUESDAY — Gregory M. Smith, 26, South Solon, driving while under license suspension; Wayne D. Blankenship, 32, Bloomington, bench warrant from Urbana Municipal Court; Jack D. Mattson, 22, Wagner Court, failure to drive on the right half of the roadway.

POLICE

TUESDAY — Margaret E. Wright, 29, Greenfield, bench warrant.

PATROL

WEDNESDAY — Roger D. Dobart, 30, N. Vernon, Ind., driving while intoxicated.

TUESDAY — David L. Hartley, 24, of 317 Cherry St., speeding.

MONDAY — Alexander E. Glenn, 20, Cleveland, speeding.

Octa resident buys grocery

OCTA — The former Gookenbarger Grocery and adjoining home have been purchased by Glenn E. Rankin of Octa. He and his wife Phyllis plan to reopen the grocery within the next two weeks.

The couple has already moved into their new home, and they have been working on the grocery to prepare for operation. They have also applied for a liquor permit and plan to have beer and wine for carryout service.

Rankin, 30, has named the store P.J.'s Carryout after his wife's nickname. They will share responsibility for the store's operation.

The son of W.E. Rankin, owner of Rankin Motor Sales, Sabina, the soon-to-be-grocer will continue his present work at the auto firm on a limited basis. He said his only prior experience in the grocery business was working in a store his father owned in Milledgeville some years ago.

P.W. Gookenbarger, who owned and operated the store for many years, decided to sell the property after the death of his wife several months ago. He still owns and operates the Texaco service station on Allen Road near Interstate 71.

Judge suspends jail sentence

In only one non-traffic case aired Tuesday in Washington C.H. Municipal Court, acting Judge Otis R. Hess Jr. suspended a seven-day jail term against a Leesburg man.

Dennis Willman pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and received the week's jail sentence and a $500 fine. All but $50 of the fine was also suspended pending three years of good behavior.

Second person dies from auto accident

Injuries sustained in a two-car auto crash near New Holland March 11 claimed the life of a second victim, Franklin Joseph Alley, 4, Monday night at Children's Hospital, Columbus.

The child's oldest brother, Anthony, 12, was killed at the time of the accident. His Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos E. Alley, Rt. 4, Lucasville, and their other children, Roxann, Amos Luther, Melissa Rose and Virgil Wayne, and Alley's mother, Mrs.

Traffic Court

Five persons were fined while several others forfeited bonds on traffic charges Tuesday in Washington C.H. Municipal Court before acting Judge Otis R. Hess Jr.

Fined:

Larry E. Manns, 19, of 1150 Lewis St., reckless operation, pleaded guilty, $75; Bobby D. Elzey, 27, Rt. 3, expired driver's license, pleaded guilty, $10, and disobey traffic device, pleaded guilty, $10; David C. Riley, 18, Bloomington, speeding, pleaded guilty, $10; Renold C. Klever, 68, South Solon, expired driver's license, pleaded guilty, $10; and J. Frederick Saenger, 61, Columbus, disobey traffic device, pleaded guilty, $10.

Bond forfeitures:

Truitt, 25, Dayton, $18, disobey traffic device; Marianne Dillon, 20, Mount Sterling, $18, disobey traffic device; and William E. Curtis, 70, Columbus, $18, disobey traffic device.

Final area artist concert set April 2 in Wilmington

WILMINGTON — The Heritage Chamber Quartet will present the last of three concerts in this year's area artist series in Wilmington. The concert will take place on Wednesday, April 2, at 8 p.m. in Boyd Auditorium at Wilmington College.

In Wilmington the Heritage Chamber Quartet will perform Dandrieu's Trio Sonata, Opus 1, No. 6 in E minor, Ellsworth Milburn's Soli 2 (1969) for Flutes and Double Bass and Sonata a Tre No. 11 in D minor by Pergolesi. Following intermission the quartet will perform "Metatheses" by Paul Palombo and Telemann's Trio Sonata in A minor.

The quartet is comprised of an unusual combination of four instruments, flute, oboe, double bass and harpsichord. As the Baroque trio sonatas they perform frequently lack the designation of specific instruments to be employed, or suggest different instruments as alternatives, the members of the quartet arrange their parts to best suit their instruments, add ornaments and realize the continuous parts themselves, just as was the practice of the time. As for contemporary music in which they have a keen interest, numerous works have been commissioned by and dedicated to them by outstanding composers from the tri-state area.

Jack Wellbaum, flute, alto flute, and piccolo, received his bachelors degree in music education from the Cincinnati College of Music. He has been a member of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra since 1950 and the Cincinnati Opera Orchestra since 1951. Wellbaum is presently adjunct associate professor of flute at the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, a position he holds in addition to his duties as a performing musician.

Adrian Gnam, oboe, oboe d'amore and English horn, has appeared as soloist as New York's Town Hall, Carnegie Hall, Tanglewood, Eastern Music Festival and with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra. During the summers he is principal oboist of the Eastern Philharmonic Orchestra at Eastern Music Festival, Greensboro, North Carolina. Gnam is a member of the Chamber Arts Ensemble, ensemble-in-residence at the University of Cincinnati College Conservatory of Music, in addition to serving as assistant professor of oboe and music director and conductor of the symphony and chamber orchestras at Ohio University, Athens.

Barry Green, double bass, a graduate of Indian University, was principal bass with Nashville Symphony and played at Tanglewood before joining the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra as principal bass. Green is the author of the book "Fundamentals of Double Bass Playing and Advanced Techniques of Double Bass Playing". He recently completed his third solo recording, "Romantic Music for the Double Bass," part of a series of albums devoted to bass music from the Baroque to Avant-Garde. Green teaches at the Cincinnati College Conservatory of Music and during the summers has been bass artist-teacher at the International Congress of Strings in Los Angeles, Calif.

Eiji Hashimoto, harpsichord, graduated from Tokyo University with a major in organ, and came to the United States in 1956 under the Fulbright Exchange Program. He received his master of arts degree from the University of Chicago and his master of music degree in harpsichord from Yale University. Hashimoto returned to Tokyo in 1964 and taught at the Toho Gakuen Conservatory of Music. He has performed at Marlboro Music Festival and as soloist with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra. Hashimoto is currently harpsichordist-in-residence and a member of the Chamber Arts Ensemble at the Cincinnati College Conservatory of Music and continues a busy schedule of concertizing and recording.

Woman's death due to traffic

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The March 18 death of Mary Kelley, 50, Cincinnati, has been ruled a traffic fatality by Hamilton County Coroner Dr. Frank Cleveland.

She was struck when she ran into the street from a bar March 16, telling other patrons she wanted to die, police said.

Youth injured

A Washington C.H. boy was hit by a car he had run out in front of at the intersection of Central Place and E. Market Street, at 5:16 p.m. Tuesday.

Washington C.H. police reported Joel P. Boylan, 13, of 844 Knollwood Circle, was injured when struck by a car driven by Carl R. Elberfeld, 50, of 426 Rawlings St. Elberfeld had seen the boy running and had slowed his car when apparently the boy changed directions and ran into his left front fender, police explained.

The youth was taken to Fayette Memorial Hospital where he was treated for an injury to the right leg and then released.
